We recognise the mana inherent in all people, regardless of their gender, age, sexual orientation, religious, social, political, economic or cultural status, and we are careful to ensure that our actions enhance and nurture our own mana and the mana of those around us.

We affirm all that is good and healthy in our whakapapa as Maori (and non-Maori), we are blind to ethnicity and other "labels" in the services we deliver.

Whanaungatanga

We nurture and enjoy a sense of interconnectedness and trust amongst ourselves and those whom we serve. We recognise the common humanity and whakapapa of all people, especially those who may seem different to us.

We value the role of whānau and the unique responsibilities of parenting in the sustenance of a healthy society.

Mauri

We want our activities, services and partnerships to be innovative, creative and flexible in order to maximise the support available to the whānau and communities we serve.

We follow the principled example of Ihu Karaiti in speaking and acting courageously, without regard for what is fashionable and popular or other artificial constraints. We rest in the knowledge that our future is determined through relationship and connectedness to God and neighbour.

Desired Future

Child Rights

Description

Te Aka Ora has guidelines for all employees regarding Child Rights

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to explain the general procedures relating to Child Rights and Te Aka Ora position in relation to these.

Scope

Children's rights are the human rights of children with particular attention to the rights of special protection and care afforded to minors. The Convention on the Rights of the Child (1989) (CRC) defines a child as any human person who has not reached the age of eighteen years. Children's rights includes their right to association with both parents, human identity as well as the basic needs for physical protection, food, universal state-paid education, health care, and criminal laws appropriate for the age and development of the child, equal protection of the child's civil rights, and freedom from discrimination on the basis of the child's race, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, religion, disability, colour, ethnicity, or other characteristics. Interpretations of children's rights range from allowing children the capacity for autonomous action to the enforcement of children being physically, mentally and emotionally free from abuse, though what constitutes "abuse" is a matter of debate. Other definitions include the rights to care and nurturing. "There are no definitions of other terms used to describe young people such as "adolescents", "teenagers," or "youth" in international law,[4] but the children's rights movement is considered distinct from the youth rights movement.

Procedure

International Rights: Declaration of the rights of the Child (aka Geneva Rights of the Child)

1. The child must be given the means requisite for its normal development, both materially and spiritually.
2. The child that is hungry must be fed, the child that is sick must be nursed, the child that is backward must be helped, the delinquent child must be reclaimed, and the orphan and the waif must be sheltered and succoured.
3. The child must be the first to receive relief in times of distress.
4. The child must be put in a position to earn a livelihood, and must be protected against every form of exploitation.
5. The child must be brought up in the consciousness that its talents must be devoted to the service of its fellow men.

Recognising Child Abuse

PN0088

Policy

Recognising Child Abuse

Description

Te Aka Ora has guidelines regarding recognising Child Abuse because "People working with children and families everyday are best placed to notice if something isn't right. Training and education is key to reducing child abuse." (Child Matters. Educating to Prevent Child Abuse, 2015)

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to explain the general procedures relating to recognising Child Abuse, ensure all core workers of Te Aka Ora are trained to identify and recognise Child Abuse in its many forms and can identify any factors that can lead to Child Abuse.

Scope

The Designated Person for Child Protection for Te Aka Ora is the Director of Service.

The Director of Service is responsible for ensuring that the procedure for reporting Child Abuse is effective and timely. If a member of staff has a Child Protection Concern, they must inform the Director of Service as soon as possible.

The following guidelines are to be adhered to by all managers, supervisors and employees to ensure that potential abuse and neglect, along with general concerns about child wellbeing, are identified and immediately and appropriately responded to.

Procedure

All core and non-core workers will become familiar with and always be guided by the Child Matters "How can I tell?" guide to Recognising Child Abuse.

All core workers will attend Child Matters' Child Protection Training, internal training sessions, be active participants in case management meetings and will utilise the guide on reflection of or during the process of completing whanau needs assessments and individual care plans where any child is involved.

To assist core workers in recognising, identifying and responding to child abuse concerns, a guideline of principles has been provided in Recognising and Identifying Abuse & Neglect:

RECOGNISING & IDENTIFYING ABUSE & NEGLECT

Description

Recognising and identifying abuse or neglect is guided by the following principles:

- 1) That every situation is different and it's important to consider all available information about the child and their environment before reaching conclusions. For example, behavioural concerns may be the result of life events, such as divorce, accidental injury, the arrival of a new sibling etc.
- 2) When we are concerned a child is showing signs of potential abuse or neglect we will talk to someone, either a colleague, manager/supervisor – we do not act alone.
- 3) While there are different definitions of abuse, the important thing is for us to consider overall wellbeing and the risk of harm to the child. It is not so important to be able to categorise the type of abuse or neglect.

- 4) You may feel uncertain, however, the important thing is that we recognise when something is wrong, especially if we notice a pattern forming or several signs that make us concerned.
- 5) Exposure to intimate partner violence (IPV) is a form of child abuse. There is a high rate of co-occurrence between IPV and the physical abuse of children.
- 6) We recognise the signs of potential abuse as:
 1. Physical signs (e.g., unexplained injuries, burns, fractures, unusual or excessive itching, genital injuries, and sexually transmitted diseases).
 2. Developmental delays (e.g., small for their age, cognitive delays, falling behind in school, poor speech and social skills).
 3. Emotional abuse/neglect (e.g., sleep problems, low self-esteem, obsessive behaviour, inability to cope in social situations, sadness/loneliness and evidence of self-harm).
 4. Behavioural concerns (e.g., age inappropriate sexual interest or play, fear of a certain person or place, eating disorders/substance abuse, disengagement/neediness, aggression).
 5. The child talking about things that indicate abuse (sometimes called an allegation or disclosure)
- 7) We are aware of the signs of potential neglect as:
 1. Physical signs (e.g., looking rough and uncared for, dirty, without appropriate clothing, underweight).
 2. Developmental delays (e.g., small for their age, cognitive delays, falling behind in school, poor speech and social skills).
 3. Emotional abuse/neglect (e.g. sleep problems, low self-esteem, obsessive behaviour, inability to cope in social situations, sadness/loneliness and evidence of self-harm).
 4. Behavioural concerns (e.g. disengagement/neediness, eating disorders/substance abuse, aggression).
 5. Neglectful supervision (e.g. out and about unsupervised, left alone, no safe home to return to).
 6. Medical neglect (e.g. persistent nappy rash or skin disorders or other untreated medical issues).

Summary

Every situation is different and staff will consider all available information about the child and their environment before reaching conclusions. For example, behavioural concerns may be the result of life events, such as divorce, accidental injury, the arrival of a new sibling etc.

Te Aka Ora will always act on the recommendations of statutory agencies, including Oranga Tamariki and the Police.

We will only inform families/whānau about suspected or actual abuse after we have discussed these with our Director of Service and the agencies listed above.

When we respond to suspected child abuse or any concerning behaviour staff will refer to the Notification of Concern Policy.

Staff involved in cases of suspected child abuse are entitled to have support.

We will maintain knowledge of such individuals, agencies and organisations in the community that provide support.

Responding to Disclosure

Policy Ref

PN0089

Policy

Responding to Disclosure

Description

Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust has the following guidelines for all core and non-core workers regarding Responding to Disclosures.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to explain the general procedures relating to Responding to Disclosures

Scope

The following guidelines are to be adhered to by all managers, supervisors and employees.

Procedure

If a child tells you about abuse, here are guidelines to follow

1. Listen and be reassuring

It's really important to make a child feel safe in telling you. Listen to them and be reassuring of your support amongst the following things:

- Accept what they have to say and make sure you don't say anything critical.
- Let them know it's good they told you about it.
- Let them know it's not their fault.
- Let them know it's not ok for things like this to happen to kids.
- Tell them you will get help.

It's best not to question them about their experience, just listen and be reassuring.

2. Write it down

As soon as possible, write down what the child tells you, using the same words they say, and how you responded.

3. Don't question or interview the child

Make sure you don't question the child further, as this may interfere with the information they've given.

4. Follow the 'Response to Abuse Procedure' on the following page to contact Oranga Tamariki or the Police as soon as possible. You can ask for whatever advice, assistance and support you need.

5. Keep the child safe

Make sure the child knows they are safe, and have done the right thing in telling you.

Don't let anyone who may be involved in the abuse know the child has said anything to you.

What to Record

It is important to record what was said, as this will become part of the evidence. You may be called into court as a witness. You need to make full notes about it as you will not remember 12 months later what happened at the time. The Police or Social Worker will want to keep your notes on file, so make sure you ask to have a copy made for yourself.

- Facts: Names, Places, Times
- Child's own words: Descriptions, behaviours, actions
- What prompted disclosure: What was going on at the time or was there a question that prompted the disclosure?

- Observations of the child: Emotions, behaviour, actions
- The "W" list: What, Who, When, Where
- (ORANGA TAMARIKI <http://www.Oranga Tamariki.govt.nz/documents/info-for-caregivers/fds-talk-about-abuse-feb12-an.pdf>, 2015)

Should I say something?

If you are worried that children you know are not safe or being well cared for, you might feel unsure about whether to let someone know.

Oranga Tamariki are there to talk through any worries you have. Their social workers are trained to work out what kinds of problems a family might be having, and find the best ways to help them get back on track.

- Don't be afraid of getting it wrong: Let them know that you're worried. It's their job to work out if the family needs help, and what we can do to help them.
- Trust your instincts: If you are worried that a child is being hurt or that they're not being well looked after, don't just hope someone else will speak up. Trust your instincts and let them know.
- Remember, it's everyone's job to keep children safe: If there are serious problems, it's likely to go on until someone speaks up. Children cannot speak up for themselves, and the people involved may be too ashamed, distressed or caught up in the situation to ask for help. (ORANGA TAMARIKI website, 2015)

- The Children, Young Persons, and Their Families (Oranga Tamariki) Legislation Bill was passed into law on 13 July 2017.

The Children, Young Persons, and Their Families Act 1989 has been renamed the Oranga Tamariki Act 2017, with another act title of the Children's and Young People's Well-being Act 1989.

The legislation:

- changes the purposes and principles of the Act to better ensure children and young people are at the centre of decision-making while considering them within the context of their family, whānau, hapū, iwi, family groups, and broader networks and communities
- allows young people to remain or return to living with a caregiver until the age of 21, with transition support and advice available up to age 25
- strengthens information sharing provisions to keep vulnerable children and young people safe from harm
- extends the youth justice system to include most 17-year-olds (those charged with specified serious offences will be dealt with in the adult courts)
- enhances the complaints processes.

A small number of amendments will take effect immediately, while the majority will come into force by Order in Council but no later than 1 July 2019.

Changes have also been made to the Vulnerable Children Act 2014, and there were minor changes to other legislation.

Policy

Approved Information Sharing Agreements (AISA)

Description

"A common theme in child abuse reviews is that vulnerable children could have been protected from harm, if involved professionals had had access to information held elsewhere. We have learned that access to the right information at the right time can make all the difference. There can no longer be any excuse for failing to protect a child if any one of us has information that they are at risk" - (Rt Hon. Sir Anand Satyanand, Advisory Expert Group on Information Security Chair)

Approved Information Sharing Agreements (AISA's) are an enabling tool that allows multi-disciplinary agencies to provide efficient and effective public services. An AISA can do this by allowing agencies to collaborate and share information without intruding on individuals' rights or exposing agencies to legal risk.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that all representatives of Te Aka Ora understand that information sharing between core workers, internally and externally are approved and for all agencies working with vulnerable children.

Scope

Principles applying to the agreement are:

- (a) The safety, welfare and well-being of children and their families and whānau are paramount considerations
- (b) Unless doing so would be impractical or may endanger any person's safety, children and their families have the right to express their views on information being shared
- (c) Wherever practicable, the reasons why information is to be shared are to be discussed openly and honestly with the children and their families
- (d) Information sharing is to be necessary, relevant and proportionate to the circumstances and needs of the children and their families.

The Agreement sets out specific types of information that can be shared (which include any history of harm to a child, and information about a parent or caregiver having a history of family violence) and safeguards to protect people's privacy.

Information can always be disclosed without consent under the Privacy Act 1993 (principle 11(f)), if the "disclosure of the information is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious threat to the life or health of the individual concerned or another individual." Under the Children, Young Persons, and Their Families Act 1989 (section 15) "Any person who believes that any child or young person has been, or is likely to be, harmed (whether physically, emotionally, or sexually), ill-treated, abused, neglected, or deprived may report the matter to a social worker or a constable." (Family Violence Clearinghouse, 2015)

Procedure

With the introduction of a growing number of AISAs between government, national and community agencies Nationwide. The sharing of information to provide a multi-pronged and well deliberated support system for identified vulnerable children.

APPROVED INFORMATION SHARING AGREEMENT (AISA) GUIDELINES

Description

“Speak Up For Them” (Child Matters ‘HOW CAN I TELL? 2015) The AISA Principles enable core workers to speak up for vulnerable children safely, especially when the families may not want us to.

Children may need help in families where:

- 1) There is violence and controlling behaviour from one adult towards another
- 2) There is known drug-taking, drug manufacture or drug dealing.
- 3) There is an excessive use of alcohol.
- 4) Animals are neglected or hurt.
- 5) Children are left alone, appear neglected or uncared for.
- 6) There is a high focus on keeping the family private or isolated and detached from the community.

In such situations you may be the key person who could make a difference and keep a child safe.

- 1) Take action
- 2) Do not look the other way
- 3) Do not assume that someone else has acted.

IT’S EVERYONE’S JOB TO HELP KEEP CHILDREN SAFE. (Child Matters ‘HOW CAN I TELL’, 2015)

Procedure

Take Action

- 1) Vulnerable children and their families require specialist support that sometimes we cannot provide on our own. In cases where we identify the need for extra support, a referral to the Children’s Team needs to be made.
 - a. Once a family/whānau has been accepted into the Children’s Team, information will be shared with their written consent. (Children’s Action Plan, 2015)
- 2) If we’re not able to gain consent from a family/whānau for referrals into the Children’s Team and there is a high focus on keeping the family private, isolated or detached from engaging with healthy options then it is important to engage community support intervention systems:
 - a. Refer to ‘Report of Concern Procedures’ Priority 3 Medium/High Risk.

It’s not always easy and it takes courage, but don’t be afraid of getting it wrong. Instead, ask yourself “What if I’m right?” (Child Matters ‘HOW CAN I TELL? 2015) We will maintain knowledge of such individuals, agencies and organisations in the community that are lead agents/agencies for families/whanau.

Informed Consent Procedure

Informed Consent

Policy Ref

PN0122

Policy

Informed Consent

Description

Te Aka Ora has guidelines for all employees regarding Informed Consent

Purpose

Te Aka Ora aims to provide and maintain a service to staff and clients that is safe, professional and effective. The organisation promotes the principle that the welfare and interest of the child or young person shall be the first and paramount consideration and as such seeks to uphold its responsibilities in relation to the legislation and the human rights of all our clients seeking services.

What is Informed Consent?

Informed consent may be defined as the process whereby someone who has the capacity/competence to consent, having been given sufficient information, arrives at a reasoned decision as to whether or not to agree to a proposed service or plan. Consent may be given orally or in writing. Informed Consent is not the act of filling out forms, but rather a process of exchange of information so that an informed decision can be made by that person.

Why is Informed Consent necessary?

Tamariki, Rangatahi & Whānau have the right to be accurately and adequately informed about a proposed service or plan and to agree or refuse to have that service or plan. All Te Aka Ora staff and volunteers have a responsibility to inform tamariki, rangatahi and whānau about proposed actions and to gain consent. Where difficult situations arise, advice should be sought by the staff and volunteers from the Chief Executive.

Right to Refuse

It must always be remembered that under section 11 of the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990, everyone has the right to refuse or withdraw consent to services. It should be made clear to the whānau that he/she/they have the right to refuse or withdraw from our services without fear of recrimination or penalty.

Guardian

Under the Guardianship Act 1968 a guardian is a person who has custody of a child and custody is defined as “the right to possession and care of a child”. Normally this will be the parents, or a parent of the child but this may not always be the case. If a guardian is not available, Te Aka Ora requires staff and volunteers to consult other appointed persons interested in the welfare of the child.

Information Giving

There is the same requirement for information to be given to parents and for consent to be obtained from parents as in all other cases. In addition to the need for parents to consent, information should, where practicable, be given to the child in a way that the child can understand and, where possible, the child’s agreement should also be sought. Of course this will vary with the age of the child, but the general principle should be to involve the child as much as possible.

Diminished Capacity and Competence to Consent

For consent to be valid it must be voluntary, knowing or informed, and competently given. Medication, intellectual disability, mental illness, inebriation, or physical injuries all may affect the informed consent process.

Capacity to Consent

Individuals with the above conditions may lack the capacity to fully give or withhold consent. In the case of intellectual disability this is a permanent state. In the other cases it is an acquired state which may be brief or prolonged. A person may be competent in some respects (e.g. to manage their financial affairs) and incompetent in others (e.g. to understand the effect of illness upon them, to assess the value of treatment). Medication can alter mental state, and may either improve or impair competence.

Where a whānau lacks, wholly or partly, the capacity to understand the nature, and to foresee the consequences, of decisions in respect of matters relating to his/her/their personal care and welfare, the Protection of Personal and Property Rights Act may be invoked. A welfare guardian appointed under the Protection of Personal and Property Rights Act will exercise the rights of the mokopuna/whānau under the Code including the rights to give written consent.

The Process

Although the process and principles of informed consent can be stated quite simply, translating them into action requires attention and sensitivity to a number of factors which can potentially compromise the whānau's ability to consent in an informed manner.

Consent to participate means that a whānau with decision-making capacity freely authorises a plan aimed at a mutually agreed goal. The consent or authorisation is informed when the staff member or volunteer discloses to the whānau sufficient relevant information to enable the whānau to make an informed decision about the relevant options for service and any risks and benefits. This informed consent process is then documented thoroughly, including in the whānau files and consent forms. Any changes or later withdrawal of consent should also be fully documented.

A third party referring to Te Aka Ora may have obtained consent from the whānau who is the intended recipient of the service. However Te Aka Ora staff and volunteers are advised to undertake his or her own informed consent process rather than relying on what may have been a generic consent process.

Gaining consent may be part of a process of ongoing evaluation and re-visiting of decisions. Respecting whānau mana is met by an honest effort to:

- Check the whānau has the capacity to make decisions.
- Disclose enough information for the whānau to make an informed decision.
- Ensure that the whānau demonstrates an adequate understanding of the disclosed information.
- Confirm that the client is freely authorising the plan.

The whānau should be informed of the intended aims and objectives of the engagement, using language, form of information, and manner that promotes understanding. Information may need to be adjusted to allow for any language or cultural barriers, as well as any cognitive or communication difficulties. Te Aka Ora staff and volunteers need to ensure the whānau are as aware as possible regarding the purpose and process of the engagement. This may mean adapting and presenting information in a more accessible manner, for example using simpler wording. The whānau should always be given time to consider the information given. Te Aka Ora staff and volunteers also needs to assess the whānau understanding by asking him/her/them to relate back their perception of the situation in their own words.

Te Aka Ora staff and volunteers should also ensure that written consent is obtained where-ever possible of any consent given. All written consent is to be stored in the respective whānau files and housed in a secure location at all times, copies will also be added to database client files.

Establishing Goals and Case Planning Approach

Policy Ref

PN0126

Policy

Goal Planning

What is needed in the plan?

All plans need to be written in every-day language that the child or young person and their family will understand, steering away from jargon and organisational words and phrases. Work in partnership with those involved as this will result in greater ownership and understanding by all parties when the plan is implemented.

Good planning follows the simple rule: It needs to be SMART. That is:

1. Specific

All plans need to have a purpose. They must focus on improving outcomes for the child or young person. What is the focus of the plan and what do the participants want to achieve? Does everyone know exactly what is expected of them and what support or assistance will be provided?

2. Measurable

How will we know changes have been made? Are things better for the child or young person? How will we know when the goal has been achieved and how will we know if it is off track?

3. Achievable

Does the family have the ability to undertake the changes necessary with support and assistance? Are we providing the right advice and support for them to do this?

4. Reviewable

Incorporate regular formal and informal reviews with all participants of the plan - the child or young person, their family and whānau, and other professionals - to ensure everyone is on track and drift is not occurring. Regular reviews allow for the plan to be modified if needed, acknowledge the achievements made, and provide ongoing feedback regarding necessary changes. It's important to be transparent about feedback and open about potential consequences if all parties are not working towards the agreed goals in the plan.

5. Time framed

Timeframes need to be child focused and, generally speaking, the younger the child the shorter the timeframe. Timeframes need to be clearly outlined in the plan especially in terms of meeting the child or young person's need

The importance of ongoing monitoring and reviews

Monitoring is a continual process of assessing how well the plan is meeting the needs of the child or young person and achieving the goals set. It means:

- Keeping the plan active and ensuring it is continuing to meet the needs of the child or young person. Circumstances can change very fast and active monitoring ensures that the services and supports wrapped around a child or young person are the right ones.

- keeping in touch with all those party to the plan, sharing information, celebrating the successes, checking out any concerns or worries
- active engagement with the child or young person - seeing how things look through their eyes
- responding quickly if a change to the plan is needed

Every plan needs to be formally reviewed at least every 3 months, via a meeting involving the child or young person (if appropriate), their family/caregiver, and the professionals working with them,

The purpose of the review meeting is to:

- share and evaluate information and progress since the last review
- celebrate the successes
- note the things that aren't going so well
- agreed changes to the plan if needed

A written and shared record of the review meeting and the revised plan is necessary in order to keep everyone working towards the same purpose.

- At Te Aka Ora all risks will be managed by analysing and evaluating the risks and then selecting the most appropriate option for addressing the risk.

Risk analysis:

- The purpose of risk analysis is to separate minor acceptable risks from the major risks and to provide data to assist in the evaluation of, and intervention in, risks.

Existing controls

The first step is to identify those existing organisational, technical systems and procedures used to manage risk and assess their strengths and weaknesses.

There are a number of ways of doing the above including:

- Checklists
- Judgements based on experience and records
 - Flow charts
 - Brainstorming
 - System analysis
 - Scenario analysis

Consequence and likelihood:

The next step is to address the magnitude of consequences or the impact of the "risk" should it occur, and the likelihood of the "risk" and its associated consequences.

The consequences and likelihood of the "risk" are assessed in the context of the existing controls

To avoid subjective biases, the best available information sources must be used when analysing consequences and likelihood. Sources of information may include.

- Past records
- Relevant experience
- Mental health practice and experience
- Relevant published literature
- Test marketing and market research

The following tables provide Te Aka Ora personnel with a method of help to determine the consequences and/or impact of a risk, and the likelihood of the risk.

Table 1: Qualitative Measures of Consequences or Impact of Risk

Level 1	Descriptor	Examples
1	Insignificant	No Injuries Low financial loss No impact on Te Aka Ora reputation No impact on quality of life for user of Te Aka Ora services
2	Minor	First aid treatment Medium financial loss Te Aka Ora reputation may be questioned by some stakeholder groups but its impact is minor Some areas of quality of life for one or two services may be affected
3	Moderate	Medical treatment required High financial loss Adverse regional media exposure Some quality of life areas would be adversely affected for service users across the organisation
4	Major	Extensive injuries Loss of service capability Major financial loss Te Aka Ora reputation is seriously threatened including national media coverage Service users would experience a significant downturn in their quality of life which would threaten their health and well being
5	Catastrophic	Loss of life Huge financial loss Service contracts withdrawn Services users quality of life would be threatened to the extent that they would no longer be safe in Te Aka Ora services

Table 2. Qualitative Measures of Likelihood of Risk

Level	Descriptor	Description
A	Almost certain	Is expected to occur in most circumstances
B	Likely	Will probably occur in most circumstances
C	Possible	Might occur at some time
D	unlikely	Could occur at some time

- The following matrix is then used to plot the consequences and likelihood of the risk to produce a category or level of risk.

Likelihood	Consequences
	Insignificant 1	Minor 2	Moderate 3	Major 4	Catastrophic 5
A almost certain	H	H	E	E	E
D unlikely	L	L	M	H	H
E rare	L	L	M	H	H

Legend: E: Extreme risk; immediate action required
H: High risk; general/Chief Executive's attention needed
M: Moderate risk; responsibility must be specified
L: Low risk; manage routine processes

RISK EVALUATION:

- The purpose of risk evaluation is to generate a prioritised list of tasks for further action.
- Risks that fall into the low risk category will be accepted with minimal further action.
- These low risks will be monitored and reviewed annually to ensure they remain acceptable. This is the responsibility of each Manager
- Risks outside the low risk category warrant intervention, which will be selected from one or more of the options in the next section (Intervention).

Intervention:

- The purpose here is to identify the preferred option for managing the risk, and then prepare and implement the risk action plans.
- There are a number of options available for managing risks

Risk aversion:

This means not proceeding with activity likely to generate risk.

- Caution needs to be taken in considering this option as risk aversion can result in:
 - Decisions to avoid or ignore risks regardless of the information available and costs incurred in managing those risks
 - Failure to manage risk
 - Leaving critical choices and/or decisions up to others
 - Deferring decisions which Te Aka Ora cannot avoid
 - Selecting an option because it represents a potential lower risk regardless of benefits

Reduce the likelihood of the risk:

Strategies here can include:

- Audit and compliance programmes
- Formal reviews of requirements, specifications and operations
- Inspection and process controls
- Quality management and standards
- Structured training programmes
- Organisational arrangements
- Contract conditions
- Investment and portfolio management
- Preventative maintenance
- Research and development
- Supervision

Reduce the consequences

- Contingency planning
- Contract conditions
- Fraud control
- Portfolio planning
- Separation or relocation of an activity and resources
- Public relations
- Contractual arrangements
- Disaster recovery plans
- Minimizing exposure to sources of risks
- Pricing policy and controls

Transfer the risk:

- This involves another party sharing some part of the risk.
- This can be done via the use of contracts, insurance arrangements and organisational structures such as partnership, MOU and joint ventures.

- It needs to be considered that while transferring a risk to another party may reduce the risk for the Te Aka Ora, it can also mean that Te Aka Ora acquires a new risk in that the organisation to which the risk has been transferred, may not manage the risk effectively.

RETAIN THE RISK:

- After risks have been reduced or transferred, there may be residual risks that are retained.
- Risks can also be retained by default through a failure to identify and/or appropriately transfer or otherwise manage risks.

Selecting the appropriate option:

- Options are to be selected on the basis of the extent of risk reduction, and the extent of any additional benefits or opportunities created.
- Selection of the most appropriate option will involve balancing the cost of implementing each option against the benefits derived from it.

Risk action plans:

- The risk action plan documents how the chosen options will be implemented.
- The plan identifies responsibilities, schedules, the expected outcome, budgeting, performance measures and the review process to be set in place.

Monitoring and review:

- Chief Executives regularly review their risk management plans to ensure they remain relevant.
- The Chief Executive will coordinate an annual review of all operational risks with Chief Executives and staff.
- The effectiveness of risk intervention will be monitored via the quarterly Quality meetings at Te Aka Ora.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to encourage youth / teens to input into improving services and listen to their aspirations and facilitate helpful relationships.

Scope

The following guidelines are to complement and contextualize perspectives from Rangatahi.

Principals

1. Facilitate helpful relationships for Teens- Teens value and need the support and guidance of a trusted peer with personal experience in residential settings, a staff member who takes a special interest in them and a caring consistent mentor
2. Understand the Meaning of resistance and Frustration and Acting Out
3. Create Opportunities for Peer Support

Managing the Risk of Infectious Diseases

Scope

The following guidelines are to be adhered to by all managers, supervisors and employees.

Procedure

Scope:

Definition:

- Infectious diseases are usually caused by bacteria or viruses and can be spread by human to human contact, animal to human contact, human contact with an infected surface, airborne transmission through tiny droplets of infectious agent suspended in the air, and by a common vehicle such as food or water.
- Notifiable disease: under the health Act 1956 medical practitioners are required to notify the Medical Officer of Health of any notifiable disease they suspect or diagnose. A revised schedule of notifiable diseases came into effect 1 June 1996 and a copy of this is located in the Related Standards and Guidelines Manual.

Policy:

- Te Aka Ora will take all possible measures to reduce the incidence of infectious disease for all staff, service users, trustees, and visitors.

- In instances where staff need: to assist with cleaning urine, stools, or vomit, they are to avoid direct contact. Gloves and a cleaning solution are to be used in all such instances. Soiled clothing and/or linen are to be placed out of touch from others and washed in hot water as soon as possible, or disposed of in a sealed rubbish bag if necessary.
- All Te Aka Ora Service User handbooks and staff flats will have up-to-date information on sexually transmitted diseases and ways of preventing infection.

Discipline of Children and Young Persons

Description

Te Aka Ora has guidelines for all employees regarding Discipline of Children and Young Persons.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to explain the general procedures relating to Discipline of Children and Young Persons.

Scope

The following guidelines are to be adhered to by all managers, supervisors and employees.

Rationale

As an organisation providing Child, Teen Parent and Family Support Services under Section 396 of the Children, Young Persons and Their Families Act 1989 it is appropriate those using the service must be confident that forms of discipline used for Children and Young Persons, in all cases, must be used only in the best interest of the Child and Young Person and in such a way that there is no physical and emotional harm caused to the Child.

Guidelines

All disciplinary measures shall follow strict procedures that will be detailed in writing on appropriate incident/accident form available for all care givers and social workers and Children and Young people.

No disciplinary action for misbehaviour of a Child and Young Person in care will include physically or emotional punishment and caregivers will be trained in appropriate alternative disciplinary methods.

If a Child or Young Person in care is disciplined for misbehaviour a record of the disciplinary action will be recorded in the Child, Young Person/s case notes and reported to the supervising case worker as soon as practicable.

All care givers will encourage good behaviour without punishment and only consider formal discipline if all other alternatives have been exhausted.

Any breach of the disciplinary policy will result in the Child or Young Person being removed from the care placement to ensure the safety of the Child is maintained.

If there is a breach of the disciplinary policy the caregiver role will be investigated by management and/or other significant providers or agencies involved in the Child/Young Person/s support and care.

Conclusion

Alternative and appropriate methods of discipline which encourage good behaviour are more successful in achieving positive responses from Children and Young Persons and are the only acceptable methods of discipline to be used in any care placement

Delegation of Authority Policy

PN0252

Policy

Delegation of Authority Policy

Description

Te Aka Ora's Delegation of Authority provides a clear indication of authorization and responsibilities for all Board Members, Executive, Management teams, staff and contractors.

This policy outlines both the Financial and Non-Financial responsibilities of all members within Te Aka Ora.

Purpose

This policy applies to all employees, contractors (together "Workers") and Board members of the organisation.

To provide guidelines of authority for financial and non-financial charges and decisions.

Scope

The following guidelines are set to reflect the decisions and procedures as per the Trust deed and the instruction as delegated from the Board of Trustees for the daily operational running.

Procedure

Te Aka Ora Board is responsible for all aspects of the Organisation. In order to allow the organization to function effectively and efficiently on a day to day basis, the board has delegated to the CEO and management team the authority to spend money and to carry out certain other tasks and functions within prescribed limits. Those delegations are set out in this policy.

All Te Aka Ora staff, including contractors, are covered by this policy for non-financial delegation decisions. The application of the interpretation and application of the Financial Delegations and Non-Financial Delegations in this policy.

These are 'quantitative' delegations under which the board of Te Aka Ora delegated authority, to be reviewed on an annual basis through the delegation matrix review.

The non-financial delegations are dependent on the position and role of the individual who have the delegations under which the Chief Executive has delegated authority to approve (or not) certain types of transaction. It is important to understand as a delegator that your decision to approve is based on evidence being provided by the individuals or roopu e.g data from Exess or InfoCare, observations.

The Financial delegations and non-financial delegations are referred to collectively as the delegations.

Financial delegation will be delegated for goods and services that are used in the normal course of running the organization, includes commitments/contract for supply for Te Aka Ora. Anything outside of the delegation matrix will become as a directive from the Board or chief executive.

A delegation form must be completed and signed by the delegate and delegator, and then the approver.

Hiring of relatives

Description

Te Aka Ora has guidelines regarding to the hiring of relatives.

Purpose

To explain the general procedures relating to hiring relatives.

Scope

The following guidelines are to be adhered to on a Trust wide level.

Procedure

The Te Aka Ora recruitment and selection process aim to ensure, that the best candidate is fairly appointed on the basis of merit. This does not preclude the employment of relatives of existing staff members provided that the individual selected is demonstrably the best candidate. If a relative of a staff member is being considered, that staff member will not justify the need for the appointment; be involved in selecting the appointee; or directly supervise the appointee.

Where a relative of a staff member has applied for a Te Aka Ora appointment that is in the same department (or equivalent), and where there is potential for a reporting relationship or close association, the staff member will notify the Chief Executive at the earliest opportunity. Alternative selection and/or reporting processes will be put in place in consultation with the General Manager. Similar alternative arrangements should apply to processes such as confirmation, advancement, or review.

This policy applies to all Te Aka Ora appointments including casual staff.

If in doubt over whether a conflict of interest exists, a staff member should seek further guidance from the Chief Executive. It is well accepted that employment of relatives in the same area of an organisation can cause serious conflicts and problems with favouritism and employee morale. In these circumstances all parties leave themselves open to charges of inequitable consideration in decisions concerning work assignments, time off privileges, performance evaluations, disciplinary actions and discharge. In addition to claims of partiality in treatment at work, personal conflicts from outside the work environment can be carried into day-to-day working relationships. It is Te Aka Ora policy that relatives of persons currently employed by Te Aka Ora may be hired for regular full-time or regular part-time positions only if they will not be working directly for or supervising a relative. For the purposes of this policy, a relative is defined as a person who is legally or blood related to you. Such people include (but are not exclusive too) spouses, parents, children, sons and daughters-in-law, brothers, sisters, brothers and sisters-in-law, fathers and mothers in law, stepparents, stepbrothers, stepsisters and stepchildren.

1. Scope
2. Delegation Authority Framework
3. Delegated Authorities
4. Delegations Schedule:
5. Financial delegations
6. Other delegations
7. Delegated Financial Authority Template

1.0 Scope

The Board is the overall and final body responsible for all decision making. In order to operate efficiently and effectively, Te Aka Ora empowers the Chief Executive of the organisation with appropriate delegations to discharge their responsibilities. This policy details the delegation framework and authorities.

1.2 Compliance

It is each employee's responsibilities to familiarise themselves with this policy and ensure their own compliance. Adherence to the policy is compulsory and non-compliance should be immediately reported to the Chief Executive who is expected to inform the Board. Non-compliance may result in disciplinary action being taken against those employees involved.

1.3 Management

The Te Aka Ora Chief Executive or equivalent position shall manage the delegations framework and report to the Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust Board of Trustees for that purpose.

1.4 Role and Alignment

Delegation occurs through a cascading mechanism. The Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust Board of Trustees delegates certain authorities to the Manager who, in turn, delegates authorities to sub-delegates where appropriate. Delegations are attached to positions. Any manager appointed to, or "acting" in, a position, is entitled to be granted the delegations of that position.

2.0 Delegation Authority Framework

2.1 Authorisation

The Delegations Policy applies to all staff and contractors of the office engaged in office business and budgets. Only employees may have delegated authorities.

The Office Delegated Authorities schedule is set out in Appendix 1 which includes the maximum amounts senior managers are entitled to spend and/or commit to spend.

2.2 Principles

In applying this delegation framework, consideration is to be given to the following principles:

Accountability

When an employee makes a decision under a delegated authority, the employee must do so first with regard to the responsibilities and values of Te Aka Ora, and secondly striving for excellence and operating with integrity. It is stressed that with the delegation authority there is a delegation of responsibility and accountability.

Transparency

Delegations will be managed and applied with consideration to transparency and a policy of no surprises.

Tax Status

All activities and expenditure are expected to be in accordance with the Te Aka Ora tax status, policies and practices.

Personal Benefit

No person may use their delegated authorities to approve a payment or activity for which they, or a closely related party, will personally benefit.

Related Transactions

Delegations relate to the maximum amount which can be authorised for each unrelated transaction. The total amount of related transactions are to be aggregated for the purpose of this framework.

Capacity and Legitimacy

All delegations will only be actioned where there is capacity for Te Aka Ora to meet the expenditure or demands, it is planned and budgeted (unless otherwise noted in this manual) and it is a legitimate expense or activity. Approvals must be at a point of commitment and not in retrospect.

3.0 Delegated Authorities

3.1 Strategic Plan, Business Plan and the Forecasted Annual Budget

The Strategic Plan, Business Plan and the Forecasted Annual Budget and Financial Policies and Systems are the key mechanisms for delegating authority to the Manager.

The Manager is empowered to implement the budget in line with this Delegations Policy.

Social Media Policy

Policy

Social Media Policy

Description

Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust has guidelines for all members and staff regarding the use of Social Media when representing and working on behalf of Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust.

Introduction

Social media such as Twitter, Facebook, Google+, YouTube and blogging represent a growing form of communication for not-for-profit organisations, allowing them to engage their members and the wider public more easily than ever before.

However, it is also an area in which rules and boundaries are constantly being tested. This policy acts in conjunction with Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust's Media Relations Policy in order to maximise our social media reach while protecting our public reputation.

Purpose

Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust may choose to engage in social media such as:

- Twitter
- Facebook
- SnapChat
- Messenger
- Instagram
- TikTok
- Google+
- WordPress/Blogger
- YouTube/Vimeo
- iTunes/Podcasting

Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust seeks to encourage information and link-sharing amongst its membership, staff and volunteers, and seeks to utilise the expertise of its employees and volunteers in generating appropriate social media content.

At the same time, social media posts should be keeping with the image that Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust wishes to present to the public, and posts made through its social media channels should not damage the organisation's reputation in any way.

Due to the fast-moving nature of social media and the constant development of new social media programs, it is important that this policy and its procedures be reviewed at regular intervals.

Scope

Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust's social media use shall be consistent with the following core values:

- Integrity: Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust will not knowingly post incorrect, defamatory or misleading information about its own work, the work of other organisations, or individuals. In addition, it will post in accordance with the organisation's Copyright and Privacy policies.
- Professionalism: Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust's social media represents the organisation as a whole and should seek to maintain a professional and uniform tone. Staff and volunteers may, from time to time and as appropriate, post on behalf of Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust using its online profiles, but the impression should remain one of a singular organisation rather than a group of individuals.
- Information Sharing: Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust encourages the sharing and reposting of online information that is relevant, appropriate to its aims, and of interest to its members.

Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust should seek to grow its social media base and use this to engage with existing and potential members, donors and stakeholders. At the same time, a professional balance must be struck which avoids placing the organisation's reputation at risk.

Procedure

The Chief Executive shall nominate a Communications Officer to co-ordinate Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust's social media management.

The Communications Officer will oversee expansion of social media and help to develop the Social Media Strategy in line with the organisation's Media Relations Policy.

Staff and volunteers may, from time to time and where appropriate, post on behalf of Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust using the organisation's online social media profiles. This is to be done only with the express knowledge and authorisation of the Communications Officer.

The Communications Officer has ultimate responsibility for:

- Ensuring that all posts are in keeping with Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust's core Social Media Policy.
- Ensuring appropriate and timely action is taken to correct or remove inappropriate posts (including defamatory and/or illegal content) and in minimising the risk of a repeat incident.
- Ensuring that appropriate and timely action is taken in repairing relations with any persons or organisations offended by an inappropriate post.
- Moderating and monitoring public response to social media, such as blog comments and Facebook replies, to ensure that trolling and spamming does not occur, to remove offensive or inappropriate replies, or caution offensive posters, and to reply to any further requests for information generated by the post topic.

It is important to maintain the balance between encouraging discussion and information sharing, and maintaining a professional and appropriate online presence.

Delegation

Social media is often a 24/7 occupation; as such, such responsibilities as outlined above may be delegated by the Communications Officer to another appropriate staff member/volunteer.

Process

Posting to social media

Before social media posts are made, volunteers and staff should ask themselves the following questions:

- Is the information I am posting, or reposting, likely to be of interest to Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust's members and stakeholders?
- Is the information in keeping with the interests of the organisation and its constituted aims?
- Could the post be construed as an attack on another individual, organisation or project?
- Would Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust's donors be happy to read the post?
- If there is a link attached to the post, does the link work, and have I read the information it links to and judged it to be an appropriate source?
- If reposting information, is the original poster an individual or organisation that Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust would be happy to associate itself with?
- Are the tone and the content of the post in keeping with other posts made by Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust? Does it maintain the organisation's overall tone?

If you are at all uncertain about whether the post is suitable, do not post it until you have discussed it with the Communications Officer or Chief Executive. A few moments spent checking can save the organisation big problems in the future.

Damage limitation

In the event of a damaging or misleading post being made, the Chief Executive and Communications Officer should be notified as soon as possible, and the following actions should occur:

- The offending post should be removed.
- Where necessary an apology should be issued, either publicly or to the individual or organisation involved.
- The origin of the offending post should be explored and steps taken to prevent a similar incident occurring in the future.

If the mistake seems set to grow, or to cause significant damage to the organisation's reputation, revert to the Media Relations Policy and the helpsheet: What to do in a Media Crisis (see appendix)

Moderating social media

The reputation of Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust is first and foremost, and this involves maintaining a safe and friendly environment for its members.

From time to time social media forums may be hijacked by trolls or spammers, or attract people who attack other posters or the organisation aggressively. In order to maintain a pleasant environment for everybody, these posts need to be moderated.

Freedom of speech is to be encouraged, but if posts contain one or more of the following, it is time to act:

- Excessive or inappropriate use of swearing
- Defamatory, slanderous or aggressive attacks on Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust, other individuals, organisations, projects or public figures
- Breach of copyrighted material not within reasonable use, in the public domain, or available under Creative Commons license
- Breach of data protection or privacy laws
- Repetitive advertisements
- Topics which fall outside the realms of interest to members and stakeholders, and which do not appear to be within the context of a legitimate discussion or enquiry.

If a post appears only once:

- Remove the post as soon as possible
- If possible/appropriate, contact the poster privately to explain why you have removed the post and highlighting Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust's posting guidelines.

If a poster continues to post inappropriate content, or if the post can be considered spam:

- Remove the post as soon as possible
- Ban or block the poster to prevent them from posting again.

Banning and blocking should be used as a last resort only, and only when it is clear that the poster intends to continue to contribute inappropriate content. However, if that is the case, action must be taken swiftly to maintain the welfare of other social media users.

The decision to block, ban and remove posts ultimately lies with the Communication Officer, but may, at their discretion, be delegated to responsible staff and volunteers.

The following disciplinary actions can and will be taken:

1. Verbal warning;
2. Written warning;
3. Reallocation of duties;
4. Suspension;
5. Termination.

Employees will be given three warnings before more serious disciplinary action is taken. At each step, the employee will be warned of the consequences should s/he continue or repeat the offence. If no further problems occur, further disciplinary action will be ceased.

Some of the main factors examined when determining appropriate disciplinary action are:

1. Seriousness of offence;
2. Repetition or duration of offence;
3. Prior offences and disciplinary actions;
4. Previous responses to disciplinary actions and any current disciplinary action.

A written record of all disciplinary actions taken will be kept with the Employees Personnel File. These reports remain a part of the employee's record for one year after the offence. Any additional offences will also remain on record for one year from date of offence. If the employee does not commit any other offences during that time, the report will be taken off of the employee's record. The report will, however, still remain a part of the employee's personnel file.

Introduction

Local and national media are vital partners in achieving the goals at Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust. In order to maximise the advantages of media presentation and minimise the risks of media misrepresentation it is necessary to establish guidelines for how media contacts will be conducted.

It is not the intention of this policy to curb freedom of speech or to enforce strict rules and regulations. Rather, the intention is to establish a framework for achieving an effective working relationship with the media. The organisation welcomes the opportunity to talk to the media and, through them, to debate issues in the public arena.

In dealing with the media, staff, Board members and other volunteers should be conscious that they may be seen as representatives of the organisation and should therefore avoid making comments or participating in photo opportunities that may damage the long-term reputation of Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust.

Purpose

Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust works with the media in order to

- advocate for the goals of the organisation
- promote the work of the organisation
- inform the public of the details of the organisation
- assist in fundraising for the organisation

In order to ensure that these purposes can be fulfilled, this policy regulates the choice of people entitled to speak for Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust.

The media themselves have a vital role to play on behalf of the community in holding Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust to account for its policies and actions. It is important that they have access to officers and members and to background information to assist them in this role.

To balance this, Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust must have the capacity to defend itself from any unfounded criticism, and will ensure that the public are properly informed of all the relevant facts (if necessary using other channels of communication).

It is the responsibility of all staff, board members and volunteers to ensure that effective media relations are maintained in order to achieve the aims of Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust.

This policy deals with the day-to-day relationship between Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust and the media and does not address how the organisation will work with the media in a crisis, for which separate all communication will be dealt with in partnership by the Trust Chairperson and Chief Executive

Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust operates on the values of

- Honesty: The organisation will never knowingly mislead the public, media or staff on an issue or news story.
- Transparency: The organisation will promote openness and accessibility in our dealings with the media, whilst complying with the law and maintaining confidentiality when appropriate.

- Clarity: All communications with the media will be written in plain English
- Balance: Information provided to the media by Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust will as far as humanly possible be objective, balanced, accurate, informative and timely.

Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust should seek to establish and maintain a good and open relationship with the media. It is important that the organisation works with the media to communicate important public information messages about its work and its goals.

However, contact concerning any significant matter in the name of or on behalf of Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust should only be made by staff, Board members and other volunteers where:

- They have consulted the Communications Officer nominated by the Board
- They have the required expertise to speak on the issue under discussion
- They have some experience in media relations.

Where any of these criteria do not apply, staff, Board members and volunteers are recommended to exercise extreme caution and to seek guidance from the most senior staff or Board member available.

Procedure

The Board shall nominate a Communications Officer to coordinate Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust's relationships with the media.

The Communications Officer, Chief Executive and the Board Chair are all authorised to speak on behalf of Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust.

Where information or public comment is requested or required, the Communications Officer shall determine the most appropriate person to respond.

Staff, Board members and other volunteers, and third parties, are encouraged to deliver public presentations that discuss Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust's work and its goals, provided that they make it clear where such presentations are or are not authorised by the organisation.

All staff, Board members and other volunteers must observe Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust's Privacy Policy in relation to client records.

Process

Significant statements on behalf of Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust shall be made as authorised by the Communications Officer, CEO or Board Chair as detailed above.

It should always be made absolutely clear whether the views put forward regarding any issue relating to Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust are those of the organisation or of an individual. At all times consideration should be given as to how the correspondence may affect the reputation of Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust.

In such a situation the Communications Officer will work with the relevant staff and Board members to produce a communications plan which will ensure that balanced, timely information is provided to keep all parties informed.
- Ensuring that no photos of clients, patients, employees, or students shall be released to the public via advertising, news media, or internet, or by any other means, without the approval of the Communications Officer, who shall satisfy themselves that the organisation’s Privacy Policy has been observed.

Any filming or taping on Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust’s property or of the organisation’s proceedings by the media is subject to prior permission of the Communications Officer, CEO or Board Chair.

Every effort should be made to assist the media in their inquiries. Where media queries involve requests for information that will require substantial staff work to produce, such work must be authorised by the CEO. It will usually be necessary to provide information in addition to that which is requested in order to set the facts and figures in context. Requests for detailed information of this nature, whether from the local or national media, should be referred to the Communications Officer.

Te Aka Ora Charitable Trust reserves the right to withhold certain sensitive information concerning, say, commercial transactions or governmental negotiations. Any such information will be clearly labelled and clearly notified to relevant staff.

Scope

The following guidelines are to be adhered to on a Trust wide level.

Procedure

- excessive level of medical leave;
- high accident level at work or elsewhere, such as while driving or at home;
- difficulty in concentration;
- problems with remembering instructions or own mistakes;
- irritability;

An employee's or client's alcohol or drug problem may come to light as a mitigating factor in a disciplinary interview. Policy

Conflicts of interest

Description

Te Aka Ora has guidelines regarding conflicts of interest.

Purpose

To explain the general procedures relating to conduct that may be considered to be in conflict to Te Aka Ora interests.

Scope

The following guidelines are to be adhered to on a Trust wide level.

Procedure

Employees have an obligation to conduct business within guidelines that prohibit actual or potential conflicts of interest. This policy establishes only the framework within which Te Aka Ora wishes the organisation to operate. The purpose of these guidelines is to provide general direction so that employees can seek further clarification on issues related to the subject of acceptable standards of operation.

An actual or potential conflict of interest occurs when an employee is in a position to influence a decision that may result in a personal gain for that employee or for a relative as a result of Te Aka Ora business dealings.

Potential conflicts of interest are those that have a likelihood to occur, or may appear to have an actual conflict of interest, or have the likelihood of a conflict of interest.

No “presumption of guilt” is created by the mere existence of a relationship with outside firms or familial internal. However if an employee has any influence on transactions involving purchases, contracts or leases, it is imperative that s/he disclose to management as soon as possible the existence of any actual or potential conflict of interest so that safeguards can be established to protect all parties.

Personal gain may result not only in cases where an employee or relative has a significant ownership in a firm with which Te Aka Ora does business but also when an employee or relative receives any bribe, substantial gift or special consideration as a result of any transaction or business dealings involving Te Aka Ora. Personal gain may also result from an employee taking advantage of confidential information or other information by reason of his/her official position.

Conflict of Interest may also arise if any employee is in a position to influence a decision about another employee or potential employee to whom they are related. Conflict may arise if there is personal gain from influencing any decision that leads to this outcome.

Trust employees are strongly encouraged to discuss job performance and goals with the Chief Executive on an informal, day-to-day basis.

Formal performance evaluations are conducted at the end of each year and in some instances twice yearly.

This is done to provide the employee the opportunity to discuss job tasks, identify and correct weaknesses, encourage and recognise strengths, and discuss positive, purposeful approaches for meeting goals.

Performance evaluations are based on Job Descriptions and monthly/trimonthly and annual tasks to be completed by the employee and the specified standards expected.

Each employee will be made aware of the performance evaluations system and how that will affect them specifically.

Employees are expected to accumulate evidence over the year to submit for the formal annual performance evaluation.

Purpose

To explain the general procedures relating to the induction of new staff.

Scope

The following guidelines are to be adhered to on a Trust wide level.

4. If upon the completion of the introductory period Te Aka Ora determines there are skill, knowledge or attitude deficiencies which will inhibit the employee from being an efficient and effective employee of Te Aka Ora they may terminate the position. The Te Aka Ora Chief Executive must document and record evidence that supports the action of termination.
5. If upon the introductory period the employee decides that Te Aka Ora culture, environment, systems and/or standards are not conducive to their professional development they have the right to resign. The employee must document and record evidence that supports their resignation.
6. Both Te Aka Ora and the employee have the right to review the decision. The review must be documented and support the final decision.

Aggressive Play

Te Whāriki

Belonging - Goal 4: Tamariki and their whānau experience an environment where they know the limits and boundaries of acceptable behaviour.

Well-being – Goal 3: Tamariki experience an environment where they are kept safe from harm.

Rationale

At Te Whare Whai Hua we recognise that it is crucial to enable Tamariki to express all of their feelings. Limits must be placed on aggressive play (either physical or verbal) to ensure a safe environment for all Tamariki attending.

Procedures

- Kaiako will create an atmosphere in which all feelings and ideas can be safely expressed.
- Tamariki and parents are encouraged to leave aggressive toys, such as guns and swords, at home.
- If Tamariki choose imaginary weapon play, kaiako will ensure the play is supported and safe.
- Kaiako are required to intervene, explain, and re-direct if play becomes (either physically or verbally) aggressive.
- Parents will be informed and behaviour guidance techniques discussed if their Tamaiti is frequently displaying aggressive behaviour.
- Kaiako will ensure that all Tamariki are kept safe from harm.

Policy

Positive Guidance

Te Whāriki

Belonging - Goal 4: Tamariki experience an environment where they know the limits and boundaries of acceptable behaviour.

Rationale

At Te Whare Whai Hua adults are required to model pro-social skills at all times. Respect, manaaki, acceptance and self-confidence are our daily goals for empowering each Tamaiti. Our Philosophy states that each Tamaiti has unique individual potential which requires nurturing through effective and gentle guidance.

Procedures

Strategies for guiding behaviour:

- Promotion of peaceful problem solving strategies which empower Tamariki.
- Re-direction of behaviour, i.e. guide the Tamaiti towards more appropriate activity.
- Always offer the Tamaiti an explanation of why certain behaviour is unacceptable and inform the Tamaiti of the desired behaviour.
- Allow the Tamaiti time to correct his, or her, behaviour, i.e. by approaching the situation and asking “what’s happening here?”, then offering choices to the Tamaiti on how to try things differently.
- Depending on the situation, and the age of the Tamaiti, kaiako may remove the toy, activity or object that is central to the inappropriate behaviour after a warning has been given.
- Extremely inappropriate behaviour may result in one-on-one time i.e. if behaviour is distracting or upsetting other Tamariki, a kaiako will go with the Tamaiti and together they will have some time away from the other Tamariki to regulate their behaviour.
- Kaiako will always talk calmly in terms of behaviour, i.e. appropriate behaviour or unacceptable behaviour.’ In this way, the behaviour, and not the Tamaiti, is rejected.
- Kaiako will work together with parents to individualise behaviour guidance plans where appropriate.
- Parents and kaiako are encouraged to avoid unnecessary and baseless rules, or limits, which may cause friction in adult-Tamaiti partnerships.
- Parents are always informed of any occurrence of any extremely inappropriate behaviour and the methods used to modify this behaviour.
- Kaiako recognise the need for consistency in dealing with all inappropriate behaviour.
- Te Whare Whai Hua is a “no hitting and no shouting” zone. This applies to Tamariki, kaiako, parents, whānau, and visitors to the centre.

- A calm and peaceful manner will be used by kaiako to ensure Tamariki dignity is upheld and respected.
- Developmental understandings, expectations, space and set up of the environment, will be taken into consideration when dealing with behaviour guidance issues.

Exploration – Goal 4: Tamariki experience an environment where they develop working theories for making sense of the natural, social, physical and material worlds.

Rationale

At Te Whare Whai Hua we recognise the importance of caring for the environment. If Tamariki are immersed and involved from a very young age they will develop a respectful disposition towards the world, helping to make it a better place in which to live.

Procedures

- Tamariki will be involved as much as possible in the procedures and practices of caring for the environment.
- We will ensure our outdoor environment includes the ‘wonder’ that nature has to offer. For example, flowers, vegetables, and native flora and fauna.
- There will be dedicated recycling bins located around the centre to ensure kaiako and Tamariki can recycle where appropriate.
- Each centre will have a worm farm and/or a method to recycle food waste.
- We will support any parent who wishes to use cloth nappies at the centre.
- To reduce power usage we will employ strategies such as turning off lights when not in use, installing eco light bulbs and turning off computers at night.
- To reduce paper waste we will employ strategies such as reusing non-confidential office paper for art purposes, shred paper for pets and accept kind donations of paper/cardboard to reuse.
- When purchasing new resources we will look for those which support our environmental and sustainable practices.
- Information about our environmental practices will be shared with parents and whānau through noticeboards, e-mails, workshops and newsletters as well as through our daily conversations.

Transition to Primary School

Te Whāriki

Contribution - Goal 3: Tamariki experience an environment where they are encouraged to learn with and alongside others.

Rationale

At Te Whare Whai Hua we recognise that primary school learning environments are quite different to early Childhood settings. Our aim is to prepare Tamariki emotionally, socially, cognitively, and physically for school. We aim to empower Tamariki with a love of learning so that the transition from Te Whare Whai Hua to primary school is as smooth as possible.

Procedures

- Kaiako provide many different learning experiences which guide Tamariki in their eventual transition to school. Prior to attending primary school kaiako encourage self- help and independence, respect for kaiako, self, peers, and equipment.
- Activities and experiences that are developmentally appropriate, stimulating, and engaging are offered, honouring what Tamariki can presently do as well as valuing the diverse skills needed when going to school.
- We recommend parents bring a prepared healthy lunch box (see healthy food policy) for the fortnight prior to their Tamaiti attending primary school. Kaiako will guide Tamariki at meal times in preparation for school lunches.
- Tamariki will be encouraged to have discussions with kaiako about the differences between Te Whare Whai Hua and primary school. Books, pictures, and outings are also used to give Tamariki some insight into what to expect.
- Our kaiako make every effort to visit the local primary schools to assist with transition. New entrant kaiako are also encouraged to visit Te Whare Whai Hua. We encourage communication between centre and school.
- Tamariki take with them their individual profiles as a keepsake from their Early Childhood years. This is also available online even when they leave the centre via Story Park.
- Kaiako share with whānau information they know or have accessed about primary schools.
- Tamariki are encouraged to bring and share photos from school visits where possible.
- Transitional school visits will be recorded in the day book and on the enrolment form.

Excursions Policy

PN0239

Policy

Excursions Policy

Te Whāriki

Belonging -Goal 1: Tamariki and their whānau experience an environment where connecting links with whānau and the wider world are affirmed and extended.

Rationale

At Te Whare Whai Hua we recognise the importance of providing a variety of experiences. Planned or Regular excursions stimulate Tamariki understanding and awareness of our community. It is essential that these excursions are planned for and carried out in a manner that promotes safety for any kaiako and Tamariki involved.

Procedures

- The whole centre will participate in some excursions, while small groups will go on other occasions.
- Written signed permission is to be gained by parents for spontaneous excursions at the time of enrolment.
- Parents may be asked to meet the cost of any special outings. Notice will be given of any cost involved and this money should be kept separate from fees for the sake of good financial housekeeping.
- Detailed documentation regarding each excursion, spontaneous or planned, including a risk assessment and kaiako contact phone numbers is kept in the outings book.
- Each centre has a specific Risk Assessment and Management Plan documented for regular excursions.
- Regular Excursions may include visits to local parks, supermarkets, libraries, fire stations, and neighbouring schools.
- Parents will be notified of any excursions planned for the Tamariki via the notice boards inside the front door, on the closed Facebook page or via Story Park.
- Before leaving on a planned excursion outside a comfortable walking distance, written signed parental permission is to be obtained specific for the purpose.
- Kaiako will prepare the Tamariki, and any accompanying adults, before leaving the centre by explaining the safety rules and what to do if they get lost.
- Kaiako will conduct regular roll calls and head counts while out on all excursions.
- Kaiako will not deviate from the planned outing route, unless this route becomes unsafe.
- A first aid kit, water, any essential medication, cell phone, and all other necessary supplies are taken on all excursions.
- Tamariki will wear weather appropriate clothing.
- The person responsible is required to hold a current First Aid Certificate and Early Childhood certification.
- Appropriate ratios will be maintained with consideration to Tamariki ages and abilities. Ratios will not exceed government regulation. As a guideline no more than 1:4 for Tamariki under 2 years and no more than 1:8 for Tamariki aged 2 years and over.
- There should be at least two adults on each excursion.

- Should Tamariki need to travel by private motor vehicle, they will only do so in a car seat secured by a seat belt that complies with the requirements under the Vehicle Equipment Rule and other Land Transport Rules made under the Land Transport Act 1998. The adult driving shall hold a current full driver's license and the car will have a current warrant of fitness and registration.
- When Tamariki are transported by any motor vehicle, at least two adults will be present when there are four or more Tamariki in the vehicle.
- Should an emergency arise a designated meeting place is decided upon prior to departure. Physical addresses of close by points to the excursion destination are also known to the persons responsible. (i.e. Library on Peel Street, Gisborne).
- If a Tamaiti is lost:
 - Stay calm, alert and focused.
 - Inform the persons responsible.
 - Find the nearest employee or security person: give them specific description of the Tamaiti.
 - Gather as a group and go to designated meeting place while one adult looks for the Tamaiti.
 - One person must phone your centre to let them know the situation and your group location (as the Tamaiti will be wearing a tag with centre contact details). That way if the Tamaiti is located by a member of the public the contact person at the centre can explain where your group is.
 - If a Tamaiti cannot be located within a reasonable period of time, considering the circumstances, the police will be contacted and the parents phoned. However, for the avoidance of doubt, if a Tamaiti is not located within 10 minutes of being separated from the group the police will be contacted immediately.
- Transporting Tamariki from centre to centre, or centre to primary school, is regarded as an excursion; please see the settling policy for further details.

Policy

Key Kaiako Policy

Te Whāriki

Well-being – Goal 2: Tamariki experience an environment where their emotional well-being is nurtured.

Rationale

In order for Tamariki to develop a sense of trust and security within the centre environment it is important that they have at least one person with whom they can create a secure base. We believe all learning happens within the context of relationships.

Procedures

- Each Tamaiti in the centre will be assigned one or more key kaiako. Careful consideration will go into assigning kaiako to a particular Tamaiti and whānau, taking appropriate shifts into consideration also.
- We respect and celebrate that the primary caregiver of a Tamaiti is and always will be the parents. The key kaiako act as a support to the parents and whānau as well as the Tamaiti. Kaiako and whānau work in partnership.
- The key kaiako approach works successfully when there is a whole team approach. This ensures the key kaiako relationship is not an exclusive one, and all information will be shared with other kaiako in the centre.
- As much as possible the key kaiako will be involved with the care routines and rituals for that Tamaiti.

Assessment, Evaluation and Planning Policy

Policy

Assessment, Evaluation and Planning Policy

Te Whāriki

Mana Reo -Communication - Goal 4: Tamariki experience an environment where they discover different ways to be creative and expressive.

Rationale

As kaiako, it is vital that we regularly assess and evaluate to celebrate and support each Tamaiti learning and development. We believe all tamariki should have the opportunities to learn across all five strands of our national early childhood curriculum Te Whariki and to pursue their strengths and interests in depth. Assessment makes valued learning visible for each tamaiti and the group as a whole, supporting curriculum planning and enhancing learning. Our programmes reflect the Curriculum, strands, goals and learning outcomes from Te Whāriki. This celebrates the uniqueness of each Tamaiti and for the group as a whole.

Procedures

- Programming is implemented co-operatively by the teachers involved with each developmental age group.
- Planning for infants and toddlers is primarily based on their own individual interests. Older groups of tamariki will be planned for individually as well as in a group.
- Te Whare Whai Hua planning ensures strengths of tamariki and interests are being supported individually as well as within a group. Each tamaiti has a profile record which is constantly revisited to document learning and development. Parents are encouraged to contribute to these through discussion and written contributions.
- Programming is based on observations of what tamariki can do, their interests and their development. Teachers aim to support and challenge tamaiti learning by providing a rich array of activities and learning experiences which reflect the child's interests.
- Planning has no time limit, reflects interests of tamariki and can be as short or as long as their interest is.
- Appropriate links will be made to Te Whāriki and other relevant development and learning theories.
- Teachers plan activities that support the learning and discoveries which have been identified through observations shared from home and at the Centre
- Each learning area records their programme, evaluates as a group, and then individually reflects on their own teaching skills.
- The programme is written and displayed prominently for parents and whānau to view.
- Parents can view their child's documented learning through Story Park the online communication system. This is a secure site and permission will be gained from parents on enrolment.
- Teachers are responsible for supporting and documenting the learning and development for a key group of tamāriki. They are responsible for collating and presenting developmental updates, anecdotal stories, artworks and photos within their profile records. These books are available to children, parents, whānau and caregivers and all information/ documentation belongs to the child.
- Teachers reflect on their practice and own learning using a 'TWWH Kaiako Evaluation' framework, which can be added to their Teacher Registration Folders.
- Children are encouraged to revisit their own learning through having access to either their individual profiles books, iPads (through Story Park) and through displays at their level.

- Story Park is available for all tamāriki that are enrolled more than 20 hours per week.

Settling Policy

Te Whāriki

Belonging - Goal 3: Tamariki and their whānau experience an environment where they feel comfortable with the routines, customs, and regular events.

Rationale

In the early years it is vital that Tamariki are supported by positive learning experiences in an environment where they feel safe and comfortable. Effective and consistent settling in procedures will ensure that this is possible.

Procedures:

- Parents and Tamariki are encouraged to visit often before the Tamaiti start date. We suggest visiting regularly for at least 3 consecutive visits prior to the official start date.
- At these visits, parents are encouraged to get to know the kaiako who will be working with their Tamaiti and share special information with their key kaiako.
- Each Tamaiti will be assigned key kaiako who will be responsible for their care routines, settling in, profile book, and developmental updates.
- Parents are welcome to stay during the first stages of transition until their Tamaiti is settled into an activity or are comfortable with a kaiako.
- Parents at Te Whare Whai Hua are encouraged to visit at any time during the day. Parents settling Tamariki into the centre are encouraged to observe and take part in our programme until such time as they feel secure enough to leave.
- Parents will be asked to complete an information sheet about their Tamaiti which will be discussed and shared during visits.
- Parents are welcome to bring any special toys or cuddlies that might help their Tamaiti to settle.
- Kaiako support Tamariki in the self-regulation process and encourage Tamariki to self-soothe themselves to sleep. However, kaiako are aware of the diversity of Tamariki needs and will collaborate with parents to ensure the Tamaiti falls asleep in a peaceful way.
- Parents should label bottles and clothing clearly, so as to avoid mix ups.
- Parents should allow time for themselves and their Tamariki to settle into the new environment. Each Tamaiti and parent settles at their own pace.
- Settling from another centre or room
- Information including the Tamaiti name, date of birth, parent names, and allergies, as well as individual and group routines are exchanged between the new and existing kaiako.
- For each Tamaiti, transitioning between Te Rito and Te Puawai is based on developmental readiness, availability of spaces, the best interests of the Tamaiti, and in consultation with parents, caregivers and whānau.
- In preparation for a transition, kaiako support Tamariki for success in the new environment.
- Should Tamariki need to travel by private motor vehicle, they will only do so in a car seat secured by a seat belt that complies with the requirements under the Vehicle Equipment Rule and other Land Transport Rules made under the Land Transport Act 1998. The adult driving shall hold a current full driver's license and the car will have a current warrant of fitness and registration.

- When Tamariki are transported by private motor vehicle, at least two adults will be present when there are four or more Tamariki in the vehicle.
- Any particular toys or books Tamariki really enjoy will go with the Tamaiti, and are returned at a later date when the Tamaiti feels comfortable.
- Any security toy/blanket/cuddly can be brought from home. Depending on the age and ability of the Tamaiti, kaiako will encourage Tamariki to be responsible for putting these safely away when not needed, and make the comfort item available to reduce emotional stress.
- Enrolment forms for the Tamaiti are to be provided to the centre before or on the first visit.
- Written information to accompany the Tamaiti when they make their transition includes:
 - 1) An individual information sheet which covers sleep time patterns, comforters, food likes and eating habits, allergies, interests, toileting, language etc. The key kaiako will fill this out with the parent or caregiver
 - 2) The Individual profile book and photos.
 - 3) Any relevant information from the Tamaiti confidential file, i.e. parents' emergency contact details.

Policy

Wharepaku Toilet Learning Policy

Te Whāriki

Well-being - Goal 1: Tamariki experience an environment where their health is promoted. Also recognise cultural tikanga aspects, tapu and noa

Rationale

At Te Whare Whai Hua we recognise that toilet learning is an important part of Tamaiti development. In order to support the natural development of toileting we prefer to give Tamariki time to lead their own toilet learning and do not place pressure on Tamariki to be using the toilet. Tamariki emotional, physical and cognitive development will be respected during the toilet learning process and appropriate strategies will be employed to support this learning. We are not in a rush for any Tamaiti to learn how to toilet themselves. The ability of a tamaiti to toilet them self does not affect how they are viewed by kaiako or how the Tamaiti participates in daily routines.

Procedures

- Tamariki need to not only know when they have wet or soiled themselves, BUT what it feels like BEFORE they need to go to the toilet.
- We recognise that Tamaiti home and centre are different environments. Tamaiti interest in toileting at home may be recognised before the Tamaiti is interested in toileting at the centre; kaiako will respect the difference between environments and support how the Tamaiti would like to toilet at the centre.
- Kaiako will follow the Tamaiti interest and give Tamariki opportunities to use the toilet.
- Kaiako will communicate with parents if their Tamaiti has been interested in the toilet, or what has happened in regards to toileting throughout the day.
- Kaiako will communicate with parents about how toileting is going at home and offer guidance to parents regarding how toileting is going in the centre. For instance, if the Tamaiti still requires nappies to be available just in case.
- Kaiako will talk with Tamariki about the toilet learning process using language that promotes body awareness and how to take care of themselves. This includes offering Tamariki appropriate advice and hygiene support.
- Kaiako will not allow food in toilet areas or toilet related products in food areas
- Separate linen and cleaning equipment are colour coded to avoid contamination

Biting Policy

Te Whāriki

Well-being – Goal 3: Tamariki experience an environment where they are kept safe from harm.

Communication – Goal 2: Tamariki experience an environment where they develop verbal communication skills for a range of purposes.

Rationale

At Te Whare Whai Hua the well-being of all Tamariki enrolled is paramount. We also recognise that biting can be a normal part of the development of young Tamariki. Consistency in behaviour guidance is essential for reducing the instances of this particular behaviour.

Procedures

- Parents will be informed if their Tamaiti has bitten or was bitten.
- Kaiako will NOT give out the name of any other Tamaiti involved.
- When a Tamaiti bites our behaviour guidance policy is followed. Kaiako attention is mainly focused on the Tamaiti who has been bitten, in caring for them and ensuring they feel better.
- Kaiako will help Tamariki who have been bitten to increase their skills of assertiveness.
- An explanation is given to the Tamaiti who has bitten that such behaviour is not acceptable. They are encouraged to use words and/or gentle hands to communicate their feelings.
- When a Tamaiti is constantly biting, a specific behaviour guidance plan will be written by the kaiako and discussed with the Tamaiti parents. Kaiako will try to recognise and prevent occurrences of biting, to reduce harm to others and help Tamariki learn more positive strategies for social engagement.
- All kaiako, both permanent and casual, will be made aware of behaviour guidance procedures for biting.
- Much has been written on the subject of biting in early Childhood. Written information will be made available to parents who are concerned.
- Parents will be reassured that biting is a normal behaviour in young Tamariki and everything is being done to reduce the instances of biting within the centre.
- Kaiako will give informal feedback to any concerned parent regarding the progress of specific behaviour guidance strategies in place. Specific time should be made for parents wishing to discuss issues with kaiako in more depth.
- Tamariki who bite will not be excluded from our daily routines or programmes.
- If the specific behaviour guidance plan written by Te Whare Whai Hua kaiako fails to reduce the instances of biting, outside help will be sought from specialist education services.

Car Seat Policy

Well-being - Goal 3: Tamariki experience an environment where they are kept safe from harm.

Rationale

Keeping a car seat on the premises enables parents and caregivers to borrow it when needed. It also ensures kaiako have a safe method of transportation in case of an emergency.

Procedures

- If a parent or caregiver borrows the car seat it must be returned as soon as possible to ensure it is available at the centre for when and if it is required.
- If it is possible, parents will be contacted prior to any kaiako taking their Tamaiti out of the centre in the case of an emergency.
- If the car seat is used to transport a Tamaiti in the case of an emergency, proper care will be taken to ensure the car seat is correctly installed and the Tamaiti is safe.
- Tamariki will only be in a car seat secured by a seat belt that complies with the requirements under the Vehicle Equipment Rule and other Land Transport Rules made under the Land Transport Act, 1998.

Tamaiti Health Policy

Policy Ref

PN0251

Policy

Tamaiti Health Policy

Te Whāriki

Well-being - Goal 1: Tamariki experience an environment where their health is promoted.

Rationale

Parents and kaiako share the responsibility for creating a healthy centre environment, which will protect and nurture Tamariki. Exclusion of Tamariki with infectious diseases from early Childhood centres is necessary where there is potential for further spread of infection. Te Whare Whai Hua wishes to make its Tamariki and adults safe from infection by clearly stating under what circumstances a Tamaiti should be excluded. Exclusion is at the Centre Leader's discretion.

Procedures

- If parents have concerns that a Tamaiti may be unwell information should be shared with kaiako upon arrival at the centre. This means kaiako should be vigilant and alert to any changes in behaviour, or signs of illness, and can respond to Tamariki needs promptly.
- A Tamaiti suffering from any of the following symptoms will be required to leave the centre. If a parent is unavailable or unable to remove their Tamaiti soon enough, the emergency contact person listed on the Tamaiti enrolment form will be contacted.

Reasons to exclude a Tamaiti from Te Whare Whai Hua:

- The illness prevents the Tamaiti from participating comfortably in programme activities.
- The illness results in greater care needed than Te Whare Whai Hua can reasonably provide without compromising the health and safety of the other Tamariki.
- The Tamaiti has any of the following conditions: fever (38 degrees Celsius and over), persistent crying, difficulty breathing, persistent coughing, persistent runny nose, or other signs of possible illness.
- Tamaiti with diarrhoea should not attend Te Whare Whai Hua. Tamariki must be symptom free for 48 hours and must have had at least one normal bowel motion before returning to Te Whare Whai Hua.
- Tamaiti with vomiting should not attend Te Whare Whai Hua. Tamariki must be symptom free for 48 hours and must be able to keep food down for those 48 hours.
- Rash with fever or behaviour change - until a doctor has determined that the illness is not a communicable disease.
- Tuberculosis - until the doctor or the Public Health Service advises that the Tamaiti is non-infectious.
- For some vaccine preventable diseases, there is a requirement to exclude unimmunised Tamariki who have had contact with a case of the disease. This applies to Measles, Diphtheria and Whooping Cough, and would be arranged on the advice of the Medical Officer of Health.
- A list of further infectious diseases information and exclusion details is listed at the conclusion of this policy. This chart is taken directly from the Ministry of Health website (last revised March 2016).

- Public Health Service exclusion guidelines will be followed for any conditions not listed above. They are contactable on (06) 869-0500.
- Individual health plans will be written in consultation with parents for Tamariki who suffer from Asthma, Epilepsy, specific allergies, or other medical conditions.
- A Tamaiti prescribed antibiotics for any illness should not return until at least 24 hours after treatment has started or at the Centre Leader's discretion.
- Te Whare Whai Hua reserves the right to request a medical certificate from a health professional before allowing a Tamaiti to return following illness.
- If a whānau member (parent/sibling or otherwise) bringing a well Tamaiti to the centre is unwell and there is a risk of spreading illness within the centre, a plan can be put in place to support drop offs and pickups.

Tamaiti Protection Policy

PN0242

Policy

Tamaiti Protection Policy

Te Whāriki

Well-being - Goal 3: Tamariki experience an environment where they are kept safe from harm.

Rationale

Kaiako at Te Whare Whai Hua are made aware of this policy and the issues of emotional, physical and sexual abuse at the time of their induction. Kaiako operate within the national Code of Professional Responsibility, known as 'The Code' and Standards for the Teaching Profession, known as 'The Standards', which sets out the high standards of integrity and professional behaviour expected of everyone in our profession. Under section 6 of the Oranga Tamariki Act (1989). The interest, safety and well-being of Tamariki are paramount.

Procedures

- Early Childhood Services Regulations state 1:5 kaiako Tamaiti ratios for Tamariki 0-2 and 1:10 kaiako Tamaiti ratio for Tamariki aged 2-5. Te Whare Whai Hua maintains higher kaiako/Tamaiti ratios than those specified by the 2008 Regulations.
- New kaiako will undergo required safety checks that comply with the Children's Act Oranga Tamariki (2014).
- Our playground and indoor play areas are designed to ensure they can be readily observed by supervising kaiako.
- Parents at Te Whare Whai Hua are encouraged to visit at any time during the day. Parents settling Tamariki into the centre are encouraged to observe and take part in our programme until such time as they feel secure enough to leave.
- Only adults named on the enrolment form are able to collect Tamariki from the centre. If a Tamaiti is to be collected by someone other than the persons on their enrolment form, parents/legal guardians are required to give written or verbal permission to the Centre Management or Administration, including their relationship to the Tamaiti.
- If Tamariki are picked up by anyone other than their parent or legal guardian, parents or kaiako are required to record this on the sign-in sheet.
- Written permission from parents is required for their tamaiti to participate in centre outings.
- Information regarding a Tamaiti will be shared to both parents unless there are any custodial arrangements in place which will limit this. Parents are to inform the centre at the earliest possible opportunity of any custodial arrangements or changes to custodial agreements.
- A complaints procedure ensures issues of concern are dealt with appropriately. Parents are encouraged to express their feelings and concerns so that the operation of Te Whare Whai Hua can be constantly improved.
- Visiting students are not allowed to change or toilet any Tamaiti unsupervised and are not to be left alone with any Tamaiti or group of Tamariki.

- Relievers will be allowed to change or toilet Tamariki and can be left alone with groups at the discretion of the Centre Leader.
- Parents will be notified of the presence of any student or reliever via newsletter, social media update or the noticeboard in the corridor .
- Written documentation is kept on any issues of concern kaiako may note about a Tamaiti. Full, relevant, contextual factors are recorded in our confidential reporting form.
- We value the internet as a learning tool. Te Whare Whai Hua kaiako will only access Tamaiti appropriate websites when exploring with Tamariki by using Kiddle. Kiddle is a safe visual search engine for Tamariki powered by Google.
- We realise and accept our own limitations in dealing with issues of abuse. Professional agencies such as the Police and the Ministry of Children, Oranga Tamariki (MCOT) will be involved in suspected cases of abuse. These agencies are sought for their specialised knowledge.
- The following measures will be taken by all kaiako regarding suspected abuse:
 - All allegations of Tamaiti abuse will be taken seriously.
 - No kaiako will act alone regarding suspected child abuse. The centre leader and Chief Executive will be consulted and they will take further action.
 - The Chief Executive will take the lead in any follow up and processes moving forward with any case of child abuse.
 - Any person disclosing information in good faith regarding suspected abuse will be assured the protection afforded by law.
 - If the Centre Leader suspects a Tamaiti is unsafe, she/he will report it to the Chief Executive, whom will report to the Ministry of Children, Oranga Tamariki (MCOT) - 0508 FAMILY (0508 326 459)
 - If there are any allegations of abuse by a Te Whare Whai Hua employee, the authorities will be informed immediately and the employee will be suspended while the matter is investigated.
 - It is Te Aka Ora's policy for all staff members to ensure the safety of all tamariki, mokopuna while in our care. If an employee fails to act on any situation where the likelihood of a tamaiti being abused is present, the employee will also be held liable and will be subject to an internal investigation resulting in disciplinary action.
 - Te Whare Whai Hua will offer support to all those involved in any abuse allegations.
- If any team members see a Tamaiti being abused, observe signs of abuse, or a Tamaiti reports being abused, we will follow the reporting process for Tamaiti abuse, as detailed at the conclusion of this policy.

Illness in Early Learning Centre Policy

Policy Ref

PN0230

Policy

Illness in Early Learning Centre Policy

Te Whāriki

Well-being - Goal 3: Tamariki experience an environment where they are kept safe from harm.

Description

Te Aka Ora has guidelines for all staff, students, whanau and community users of Te Whare Whai Hua Early Learning Centre in regards to illness at the Centre.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to explain the general procedures and processes for staff and whanau to follow when regarding our children within the Centre should they fall ill or suffer from illness of any sort.

Scope

The following guidelines are to be adhered to by all management, employees and service users.

Rationale:

At Te Whare Whai Hua we recognize that consistent good health and wellbeing can positively affect a child's learning and development. While most children are likely to experience illness at some stage during their time at Te Whare Whai Hua due to the nature of early learning centres, we believe that if children are unwell they are better to be away from the centre where they can rest and recuperate. When children are unwell at the centre we take preventative measures to prevent the illness spreading to other children and teachers.

Objectives:

- To reduce the risk of an illness spreading within the centre, prior, during and after illnesses have occurred.
- To ensure the health and well-being of every person in the centre is respected.

Procedures:

If a child becomes ill in the centre

- When a child or staff member becomes ill they will be sent home as soon as possible. They will be recommended to stay home until well again.
- If a child is unable to go home immediately they will be kept in the office or parents/staff room away from others. When not possible due to staffing the child will be seated on the couch away from others. They will be monitored and an appropriate treatment will be administered, for example, tepid sponging, the removal of clothing, drinks of water and comforting if necessary.
- Parents will be contacted immediately and advised to seek medical advice, then asked to ring the centre to inform us of the confirmed illness. If parents are unavailable the child's emergency contact will be notified.
- Other parents will be informed of infectious illnesses in the centre through panui placed in child pockets located at the front entrance ready for collection or laminated cards displayed in the appropriate place and via e-mail and Facebook updates.
- Staff may seek immediate assistance from a doctor or paramedic if you notice a child who:

General

- Has been ill, or is ill and seems to be getting much worse
- Cannot be woken or is responding less than usual to what is going on around them • has glazed eyes and is not focusing on anything
- Seems more floppy, sleepy or less alert than usual
- Has a seizure or fit (unless they are already known to have fits or seizures and the parent/ caregiver and centre have discussed what to do)
- Has an unusual cry that lasts for one hour or more
- Has a severe stomach pain that makes them bend over and scream or cry
- Has been badly injured
- Has stomach pain without vomiting or diarrhoea after a fall, a blow or injury

- Has fallen and knocked their head and appears dazed, or was knocked out for any length of time

Temperature

- Feels too cold or too hot (a temperature of 38.3 degrees or more)

Circulation and skin colour

- Body is much paler than usual or suddenly turns very blue or white
- Nails are blue or big toe is completely white and after squeezing the toe, normal colour takes more than three seconds to return
- Has a rash which covers a large part of the body
- Has a blood-red or purple rash of tiny spots or bruises, but has not been injured

Breathing

- Goes blue or stops breathing
- Breathes more quickly than normal or grunts when breathing
- Makes a wheezing noise when breathing out
- Breathes so fast and hard that they cannot speak, eat, cry or play
- Skin below the ribs sucks in as the child breathes

Vomiting and diarrhea

- Has vomited at least half of the last three feeds
- Has green vomit
- Has feces that are black or bloody
- Has vomiting and diarrhea together, is refusing fluids and has passed less urine than usual.

Preventing transmission of illnesses

- All staff will remain a high standard of hygiene to prevent transmission of illnesses.
- Children and staff need to wash their hands or use hand sanitizer:
 - Before and after preparing, handling, serving food or eating.
 - After using the toilet, helping a child to use the toilet or changing nappies.
 - After blowing their nose or helping a child to blow their nose.
 - After touching a pet or other animals
 - After handling rubbish.
- Children will be taught through role-modelling to wash their hands carefully and not to rush. Making sure that around nails, between fingers and the backs of hands are included in the washing. Staff will also ensure that children thoroughly dry their hands.
- Paper towels are used for drying hands and then discarded.
- Soap will be readily available and used at all times.
- Babies' hands will be wiped regularly throughout the day.
- Staff will encourage children to independently wash hands through role-modelling, posters and chants.
- Disposable gloves will be worn:
 - Whenever dealing with faeces, urine or blood
 - If skin is cut or non-intact (e.g. chapped or dermatitis)
 - The children's feelings will be taken into account to avoid any feeling of rejection by the child by a staff member wearing them.
- Children should stay away from the centre when they are ill and causing concern or:
 - Have little interest in activities or play
 - Have little energy, want or need to sleep or rest for long periods
 - Cry easily, are irritable or in pain
 - Constantly want to be held or comforted
 - Have a fever. Above 38.3 degrees.
 - Any child with diarrhoea or vomiting should stay away until symptoms cease and they are well, 48 hours after last symptom.
- Educators along with children cannot attend when they have a contagious illness or when their sickness affects their ability to perform their required duties.
- Parents, whānau members or any other person with an infectious or contagious condition or disease will be excluded from the centre, this may mean a child is greeted at the gate to prevent a person from entering if the child in immediate contact is cleared to attend by a doctor.

- The management team may exclude a child from the centre that is unwell and require doctor’s diagnosis prior to the child returning.
- The health schedule is situated in the parenting handbook and will highlighted to parents when they enrol their child into the centre and when they are present in the centre. The handbook will outline the illnesses and the recommended absences; these are the guidelines that Te Whare Whai Hua abide by. Children that have an infectious disease must remain away from the centre until they have doctor’s clearance to return, have had the recommended exclusion period as listed in this policy or have been approved to return to the centre by centre management.
- Illnesses are recorded in the centre diary.
- A immunisation register is held and updated regularly at the centre. This must be sighted on enrolment or at the age of 15 months if they enrolled prior to being 15 months old. The decision to immunise a child is up to the parents and whānau and the centre will respect that but the centre needs to be aware of the child immunisation status so that immediate contact can be made should an outbreak occur.
- During the event of an outbreak of a communicable disease staff will increase the frequency of cleaning and the strength of the cleaning products used.

Headlice

- When a staff member notices a child has headlice, their parents will be contacted for pick-up and treatment as soon as possible. Prior to pick up staff will try to eliminate as much head to head contact with other children as possible. The parent will be given the Ministry of Health guidelines for treating headlice. The child is then able to return the following morning after treatment. If live lice are again noticed the parent will be contacted again for further treatment.
- Should there be noticeable reason cause suspect a child has headlice, Te Whare Whai Hua staff reserves the right to inspect the child’s hair, under the sole reasoning to confirm headlice present.
- All children with long hair will be requested to have their hair tied up while at the centre.
- Other parents will be notified with a panui home to prompt them to check their child when an incident occurs
- Regular prompting in the centre newsletter
- Centre floors are vacuumed daily
- Dress-up are washed regularly
- Sharing of hats will be discouraged
- All children will have individual bedding

Existing Conditions

- It is the parent’s responsibility to inform staff of any existing conditions their child has on enrolment or should a condition develop subsequently e.g. asthma, allergies. Staff should be advised of any special medical treatment that may be required. All staff will be made aware of children’s needs or allergies. A list of allergies is displayed in both kitchens and updated as required. If children require continuous medication this is to be recorded on the continuous medication form in the health and safety file.
- Parents need to update staff if the condition changes and the treatment or plan changes.
- Staff need to read information on the child’s condition when they become aware of it and to inform other staff members.

Belonging - Goal 3: Parents experience an environment where they feel comfortable with the routines, customs and regular events.

Procedures

- All fees are to be paid to the Centre on a weekly basis unless an alternative arrangement is reached with the Chief Executive.

- During summer, parents are encouraged to sunblock their Tamariki prior to bringing them to the centre each morning.
- Kaiako role-model the use of hats and sunscreen outside.
- In summer Tamariki are never outside wearing less than a T-shirt and are encouraged to wear a hat.
- For Tamariki who often remove their hats, sunblock will be applied directly to their scalps.

Policy

Tamaiti Health Policy

Te Whāriki

Well-being - Goal 1: Tamariki experience an environment where their health is promoted.

Rationale

Parents and kaiako share the responsibility for creating a healthy centre environment, which will protect and nurture Tamariki. Exclusion of Tamariki with infectious diseases from early Childhood centres is necessary where there is potential for further spread of infection. Te Whare Whai Hua wishes to make its Tamariki and adults safe from infection by clearly stating under what circumstances a Tamaiti should be excluded. Exclusion is at the centre manager's discretion.

Procedures

- If parents have concerns that a Tamaiti may be unwell information should be shared with kaiako upon arrival at the centre. This means kaiako should be vigilant and alert to any changes in behaviour, or signs of illness, and can respond to Tamariki needs promptly.
- A Tamaiti suffering from any of the following symptoms will be required to leave the centre. If a parent is unavailable or unable to remove their Tamaiti soon enough, the emergency contact person listed on the Tamaiti enrolment form will be contacted.

Reasons to exclude a Tamaiti from Te Whare Whai Hua:

- The illness prevents the Tamaiti from participating comfortably in programme activities.
- The illness results in greater care needed than Te Whare Whai Hua can reasonably provide without compromising the health and safety of the other Tamariki.
- The Tamaiti has any of the following conditions: fever (38 degrees Celsius and over), persistent crying, difficulty breathing, persistent coughing, persistent runny nose, or other signs of possible illness.
- Tamaiti with diarrhoea should not attend Te Whare Whai Hua. Tamariki must be symptom free for 48 hours and must have had at least one normal bowel motion before returning to Te Whare Whai Hua.
- Tamaiti with vomiting should not attend Te Whare Whai Hua. Tamariki must be symptom free for 48 hours and must be able to keep food down for those 48 hours.
- Rash with fever or behaviour change - until a doctor has determined that the illness is not a communicable disease.
- Tuberculosis - until the doctor or the Public Health Service advises that the Tamaiti is non-infectious.
- For some vaccine preventable diseases, there is a requirement to exclude unimmunised Tamariki who have had contact with a case of the disease. This applies to Measles, Diphtheria and Whooping Cough, and would be arranged on the advice of the Medical Officer of Health.
- A list of further infectious diseases information and exclusion details is listed at the conclusion of this policy. This chart is taken directly from the Ministry of Health website (last revised March 2016).

- Public Health Service exclusion guidelines will be followed for any conditions not listed above. They are contactable on (06) 869-0500.
- Individual health plans will be written in consultation with parents for Tamariki who suffer from Asthma, Epilepsy, specific allergies, or other medical conditions.
- A Tamaiti prescribed antibiotics for any illness should not return until at least 24 hours after treatment has started or at the centre manager's discretion.
- Te Whare Whai Hua reserves the right to request a medical certificate from a health professional before allowing a Tamaiti to return following illness.
- If a whānau member (parent/sibling or otherwise) bringing a well Tamaiti to the centre is unwell and there is a risk of spreading illness within the centre, a plan can be put in place to support drop offs and pickups.

Policy

Child Protection Policy (TWWH)

Te Whāriki

Well-being - Goal 3: Children experience an environment where they are kept safe from harm.

Rationale

Teachers at Te Whare Whai Hua are made aware of this policy and the issues of emotional, physical and sexual abuse at the time of their induction. Teachers operate within the national Code of Ethics which sets a high standard for professionals in our field. Under section 6 of the Children, Young Persons and their Families Act (1989) "The interest, safety and well-being of children is paramount."

Procedures

- Early Childhood Services Regulations state 1:5 teacher child ratios for children 0-2 and 1:10 teacher child ratio for children aged 2-5. Te Whare Whai Hua will endeavor to maintain higher teacher/child ratios than those specified by the 2008 Regulations.
- New teachers will undergo required safety checks that comply with the Vulnerable Children's Act (2014).
- Our playground and indoor play areas are designed to ensure they can be readily observed by teachers supervising.
- Parents at Te Whare Whai Hua are encouraged to visit at any time during the day. Parents settling children into the Centre are encouraged to observe and take part in our programme until such time as they feel secure enough to leave.
- Only adults named on the enrolment form are able to collect children from the Centre. If a child is to be collected from someone other than the persons on their enrolment form, parents/legal guardian are required to give written permission to the teaching team including relationship to the child.
- If children are picked up by anyone other than their parent or legal guardian, parents or teachers are required to record this in the day book.
- Written permission from parents is required for their child (ren) to participate in Centre excursions.
- A complaints procedure ensures issues of concern are dealt with appropriately. Parents are encouraged to express their feelings and concerns so that the operation of Te Whare Whai Hua can be constantly improved.
- Visiting students are not allowed to change or toilet any child unsupervised and are not to be left alone with any child or group of children.
- Relievers will be allowed to change or toilet children and be left alone with groups at the discretion of the Centre manager.
- Whanau will be notified of the presence of any student or reliever via the notice board, Story Park, TWWH ELC Face Book page and kanohi ki te kanohi.
- Written documentation is kept on any issues of concern teachers may note about a child. Full, relevant, contextual factors are recorded in our confidential 'team meeting minute book'.

- We value the internet as a learning tool. Te Whare Whai Hua teachers will only access child appropriate websites when exploring with children.
- We realise and accept our own limitations in dealing with issues of abuse. Professional agencies such as the Police and the Children, Young Persons, and their Families Service will be involved in suspected cases of abuse. These agencies are sought for their specialised knowledge.
- The following measures will be taken by all teachers regarding suspected abuse:
 - All allegations of child abuse will be taken seriously.
 - No teacher will act alone regarding suspected child abuse.
 - The Centre manager and principal will be consulted and she/he will take further action.
 - Further advice and supervision will be provided by Chief Executive and Director of Services.
 - Any person disclosing information in good faith regarding suspected abuse will be assured the protection afforded by law.
 - If the Centre manager suspects a child is unsafe, she/he will report it to the Police or Child, Youth and Family - 0508 FAMILY (0508 326 459) or the Children's Team.
 - If there are any allegations of abuse by a Te Whare Whai Hua employee, the authorities will be informed immediately and the teacher will be suspended while the matter is investigated.
 - Te Whare Whai Hua will offer support to all those involved in any abuse allegations

Medicines Policy

Te Whāriki

Well-being - Goal 1: Children experience an environment where their health is promoted.

Rationale

At Te Whare Whai Hua the needs of each child are paramount in the decisions we make. On occasion we are required to administer medicines to children in attendance.

Procedures

Any child requiring pain relief should not be in attendance at the Centre. However, exceptions can be made with regard to teething (see teething policy).

- Kaiako need to be informed of any medication administered prior to tamāriki being left at the Centre.
- Kaiako will take every possible measure to relieve symptoms of pain or fever prior to administering paracetamol such as; paracetamol/paracare and will only administer medication with prior parental permission.
- Kaiako will record symptoms and temperatures in the illness book prior to administering paracetamol. This will ensure that when the child can be collected and taken to the doctor there is a written record of any symptoms the pain relief may be masking.
- In the case of sudden injury and possible shock our teachers are trained in the administration of first aid and are only able to administer first aid until parents / medical staff arrive on the scene.
- Whanau should clearly label any medicines brought into the Centre, record the dosage and relevant details in the medicine book, and check with a teacher for the appropriate storage place.
- Care will be taken to always use the correct strength and dosage of medicine, as advised by parent.
- A written record of any medicine administered can be found in the medicine book.
- Prescription medicine and homeopathic remedies are to be brought into the Centre in original packaging which clearly shows a name, dosage and expiry date.
- Natural remedies such as arnica and papaw cream will be administered with written parental permission upon enrolment.
- Taking prescribed antibiotics does not automatically ensure your child is well enough to resume attendance. Please refer to our child health policy.

At Te Whare Whai Hua we recognise that each child is unique and comes to us with their own sleeping routine. Therefore, teachers will endeavor to follow individual children's rhythms and routines in a relaxed and familiar environment.

Procedures

- All children are provided with their own individual sleeping space and bed linen. Their bed linen is washed weekly.
- Sleep spaces are positive and peaceful to ensure undisturbed rest.
- To ease your child into sleeping at the Centre, it is beneficial for all if they are able to fall asleep on their own without being held or rocked. However, teachers will ensure children fall asleep in a peaceful way.
- We endeavor to ensure our sleep rooms are positive and peaceful spaces. However, they are not silent spaces.
- Adequate sleeping space is provided for children's safety and hygiene.
- A sound, accurate monitoring system is held in place by teachers at all times. There is a teacher present in the sleep space whenever possible, ten minute checks are carried out for sleeping children, and records of sleeps are maintained.
- Teachers are guided by children's individual rhythms and routines and are relaxed and unhurried.
- Parents are encouraged to bring to Te Whare Whai Hua any special sleeping cuddlies/toys their child may have.
- In accordance with the government regulations children will not be put to bed with a bottle.
- For reasons of cultural sensitivity children are encouraged not to stand on pillows and children sleeping near each other are positioned head to head rather than head to feet.
- If children are sleeping outdoors they will be kept suitably warm.

Policy

Teething Policy

Te Whāriki

Well-being – Goal 1: Children experience an environment where their health is promoted.

Rationale

Teething can be a large part of development and life for infants and toddlers. This can have a significant impact on our programme and the children and teachers in the environment. A supportive partnership between parents and teachers is important to minimise any negative experiences for children.

Procedures

- Parents will provide teething rings and remedies for their child as necessary.
- Teachers will administer pain relief for children in accordance with our medicines policy.
- However, paracetamol such as paracetamol/paracare will only be administered for a 24-hour period before clearance from a doctor is requested to rule out the possibility that such pain relief could be masking the symptoms of something more severe.
- Teachers require open communication with parents to ensure information regarding what pain relief has been administered to children prior to their attendance each day.
- In cases where the pain from teething is so intense it impacts on the child's ability to fully participate in the programme, the centre manager reserves the right to request a parent keep their child at home until they are well.

Volunteer Application Form for Safety Checking under the Vulnerable Children’s Act 2014	342
Staff Application Form for Rechecking under the Vulnerable Children’s Act 2014	345

Summary

1. Part 3 of the Vulnerable Children Act 2014 (VCA) aims to protect children (those aged under 17) by requiring that people who work with children in New Zealand in certain contexts must be 'safety checked', and by prohibiting those convicted of certain crimes from working in key roles with children.
2. Work can include both paid work, and unpaid work undertaken as part of an educational course, so both Trust staff and students may be subject to the VCA.
3. The VCA only applies to 'children's workers', defined as those who work:
 - with children
 - in a regulated service (e.g. health care, counselling, school-level education, etc.)
 - with regular or overnight contact with those children without the parent or guardian of each child being present.

Note: flowcharts are provided on pages 5-7 of this document to assist in determining if the VCA is relevant to particular staff or students.

4. Most Trust work is not considered a regulated service in this context, but there may be exceptions such as:
 - regulated services provided within the Trust or associated entities (e.g. dental clinics, the Trust childcare facility)
 - student or staff placements (e.g. in hospitals or schools)
 - student or staff research activities carried out in the context of regulated services.
5. Trust staff and students who are considered children's workers will need to be safety checked, which involves:
 - confirming identity using a prescribed process
 - considering prescribed information
 - undertaking a risk assessment.

Note: see pages 9-15 of this document.

6. Safety-checked children's workers must be rechecked every three years.
7. There are rolling dates for implementation of VCA requirements (see the separate 'VCA Implementation Schedule' document).
8. Under the VCA, it is expected that the Trust will carry out safety checks on staff and students carrying out work, study or research in external regulated services and the requirements and expectations of these services will need to be taken into account (see page 8).
9. Trust divisions, departments and other relevant units are responsible for ensuring that:
 - programmes which involve relevant contact with children have documented processes in place for safety checking students
 - the staff and students who are considered children's workers are safety checked
 - that details of student and staff safety checks are recorded and managed in accordance with the Privacy Act and relevant Trust policy
 - that three-yearly rechecking is carried out as appropriate.
10. The purpose of this document is:
 - to assist departments and other units with identifying staff and students who may be considered children's workers, and who will thus need to be safety checked
 - to clarify who is responsible for undertaking all or components of safety checking processes
 - to provide information and associated template documents to assist with safety checking, and ensure this is carried out in a manner compliant with the VCA
 - to provide advice on associated issues.

Key Terms

The following definitions are used in this document in relation to the relevant parts of the Vulnerable Children Act:

Work	For the purposes of the Act may include paid work, or unpaid work undertaken as part of an educational or vocational training course (i.e. the Act potentially applies to both staff and students)
Children's Worker	A person involved in working in a regulated service with children, with regular or overnight contact with those children, without the parent or guardian of each child of parent being present
Core Worker	A children's worker (as defined above) who has primary responsibility for children in their care, or who is left alone with children without other workers being present

Flowchart for Determining if the VCA applies to a Service or Programme

This flowchart should be used for house residents, which should be considered in terms of the structure and planned activities of the programme

Will any staff, at any time in the programme, be carrying out their duties studies in the context of a regulated service¹?

YES

Will there be other staff be physically present in the same space as their child such that they have effective practical oversight of their child at all times.

NO

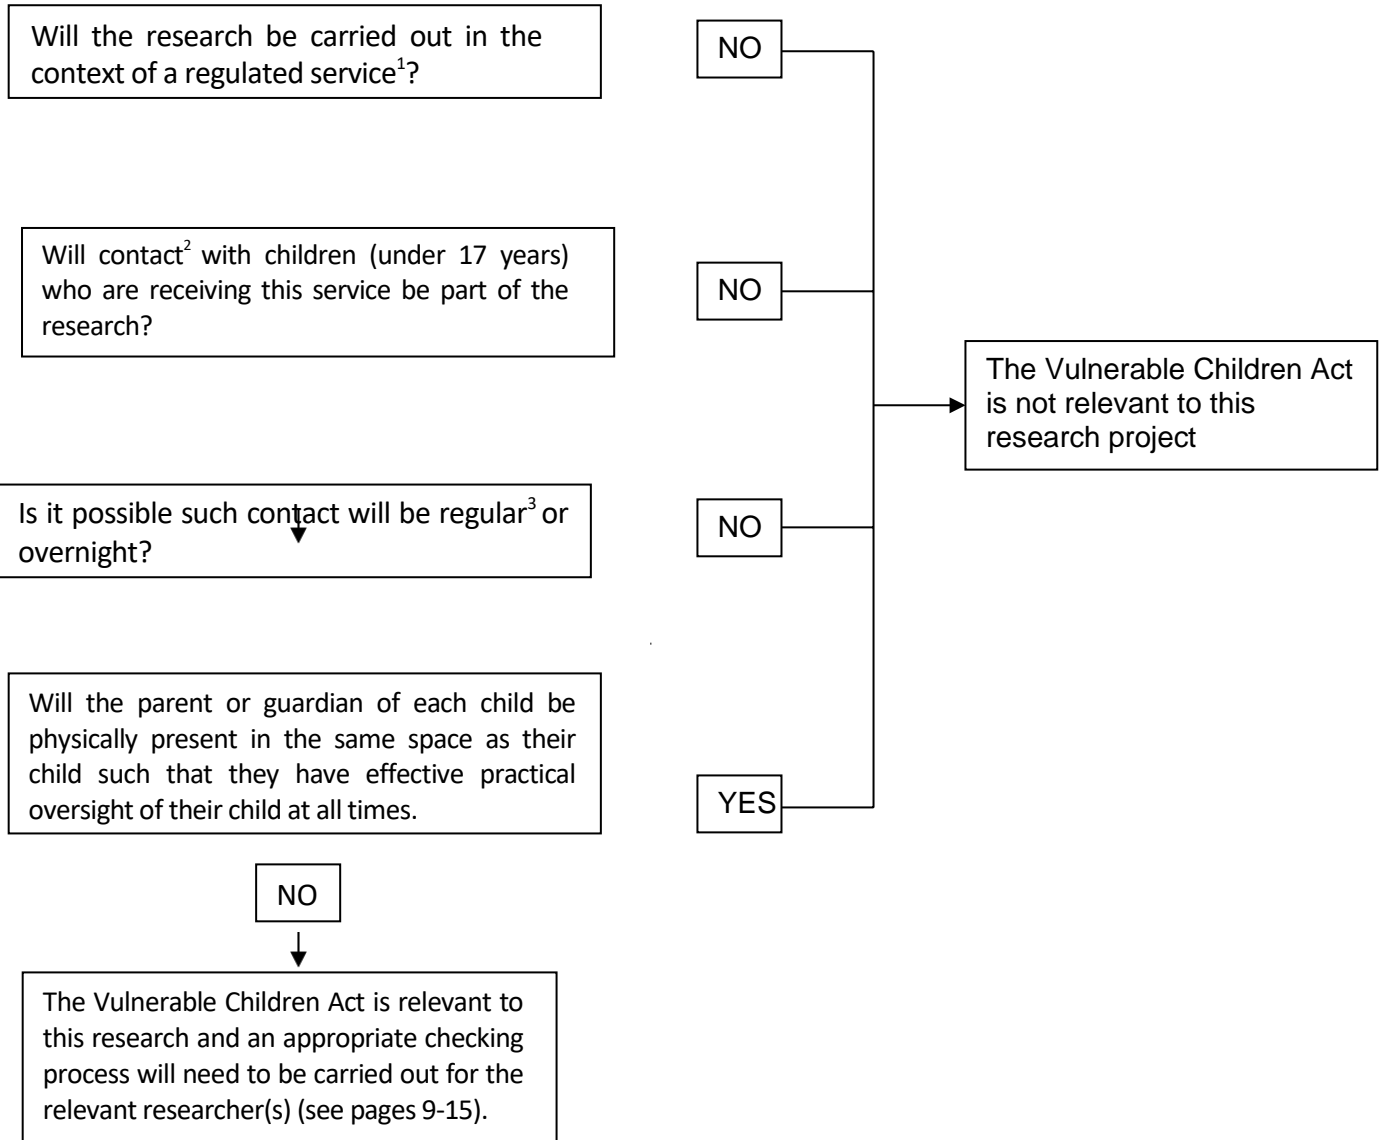

The Vulnerable Children Act is relevant to residents in this programme and appropriate checking process will need to be put

1. Regulated Services are summarised in Appendix 1 and include welfare, counselling, health and school services within New Zealand. Trust teaching activities are not included except where they involve the delivery of, or take place in the context of another party's delivery of, these services.
2. Contact is defined as physical contact, oral communication in person or by telephone, or communication through any electronic medium.
3. Regular Contact means that during any defined period (e.g. a placement) a student would be expected to have relevant contact with a child or children at least once per week, or four days per month.

Flowchart for Determining if the VCA applies to a Volunteer or Student Placement Project

This flowchart should be used for student and staff research projects requiring ethical approval. Separate flowcharts exist for coursework in programmes and staff activities other than research.

YES

1. Regulated Services are summarised in Appendix 1 and include welfare, counselling, health and school services within New Zealand. Trust research activities are not included except where they involve the delivery of, or take place in the context of another party’s delivery of, these services.
2. Contact is defined as physical contact, oral communication in person or by telephone, or communication through any electronic medium.
3. Regular Contact means that during the research or some period of it (which period may or may not yet be specifically identifiable), the researcher would be expected to have contact with a child or children, in relation the research in question, at least once per week across multiple successive weeks, or at least four days per month.

Flowchart for Determining if the VCA applies to a Staff Member (SM) and a Trustee (T)

This flowchart should be used to determine the relevance of the Vulnerable Children Act to staff activities except for research projects requiring ethical approval. Such research projects should be considered on a case-by-case basis using the Flowchart for Determining if the Vulnerable Children Act applies to a Research Project.

1. Regulated Services are summarised in Appendix 1 and include welfare, counselling, health and school services within New Zealand. Trust research, teaching and administrative activities are not usually included except where they involve the delivery of, or take place in the context of another party's delivery of, these services.
2. Contact is defined as physical contact, oral communication in person or by telephone, or communication through any electronic medium.
3. Regular Contact means that the staff member would be expected to have contact with a child or children as part of their Trust work at least once per week or at least four days per month.

Liaison with External Organisations

In many instances in which the Trust carries out VCA safety checks on staff, volunteers and students, such staff or students will be working with children in the context of external organisations. These organisations will need to be satisfied that Trust processes for safety checking are robust.

In the majority of cases, particularly where contact is not part of an ongoing programme or initiative, it may be sufficient for the external organisation to know that all relevant staff or students are safety checked. Where more information is required, an open approach in discussing the Trust's safety checking processes is encouraged. In this context, the following may be useful:

- Directing to relevant Trust policy and documents (such as this guide).
- Detailing specific safety checking processes which have been established (see the 'Safety Checking' sections on pages 9-15 of this Guide).
- Providing information on the staff that are responsible for making risk assessments as part of the safety checks carried out in your area.
- Providing information on criteria applied in determining safety and any additional checking processes which are carried out when a risk is identified.

While openness is encouraged in discussing safety checking processes with relevant external organisations, privacy law means that details of individual applicants should never be shared with external organisations without the consent of the applicant first being obtained. If there is concern about an individual during the safety checking process and liaison with external organisations about their specific case is deemed necessary, the applicant's explicit written consent is required for this to occur.

For ongoing programmes and initiative which involve agreement with a number of different external institutions, coordination of agreements and processes is recommended. Where wide-ranging agreements are necessary, these should preferably be sought with higher-level bodies rather than individual institutions.

Safety Checking

Safety checking: summary of requirements

The following table summarises the safety checking requirements in different cases and may be used to ensure all required steps have been carried out or included in planned processes.

- New Children's Workers are staff or students newly employed or engaged in children's worker roles.
- Current Children's Workers are staff or students already employed or engaged in children's worker roles.
- Rechecking Requirements are for staff or students who have been previously checked by the Trust and who need to have their safety-checked status renewed.

A staff member who is already employed by the Trust in a non-children's worker role, who, within the context of their current role, begins working with children (for example an academic staff member who initiates a research project with children to which the VCA applies) may be treated as a Current Children's Worker in terms of the safety checking requirements outlined below. That is, the person need not supply a five-year work history, and interview and referee checks are not required. This provision can also be applied to currently enrolled postgraduate research students in some instances (see page 15).

Safety checks must be completed before the person commences work as a children's worker, or continues such work (after the relevant date under the VCA implementation schedule – see the Vulnerable Children Act Implementation Schedule document for more information – or the relevant date for rechecking).

Safety checking: required information from applicants

To initiate safety checking, it is recommended that information and authorisations be collected from the staff member.

Required information is as follows:

Information	Type/notes
Name	Administrative
Staff	Administrative
Details of any convictions	Required
Authorisation for a New Zealand police vet on appropriate documentation	Required for all checks
International police certificates for any country in which the applicant has lived across the last five years	Recommended (not required by VCA)
Identity verification documentation*	Initial checks only
Confirmation of no name change since last check or name change verification documentation	Rechecks only
List of professional organisations, licensing and/or registration authorities of which the applicant is a member	Required for all checks
Five-year work history	New Children's Workers only
The name of a referee or referees who can be contacted, who must not be related to the applicant or a member of their extended family	New Children's Workers only

Note that because of the requirement for original identity documents under the VCA (see below) it may not always be practical for applicants to provide the required documentation as part of their application. In such cases the applicant should be required to declare that they will provide such documentation before commencing their work with children.

Safety checking: identity verification

Identity verification may be carried out through an electronic identity verification service such as RealMe (www.realm.govt.nz), but is expected this won't be available for most applicants. For this reason, document checking will normally be used. Identity documents must be originals presented in person, and must include:

A primary document to establish the identity exists (passport, NZ citizenship certificate, NZ birth certificate issued after 1

January 1998 with unique ID number, etc.)

A full list of permitted ID documents is provided in Appendix 2 on page 20.

The staff member receiving the identity documents should take copies of these and verify that they have sighted the originals; this should include their name and the date on the copy. These should be kept as part of the safety check file for the applicant in question. For staff these will be held by Human Resources. The applicant's identity must be linked to the identity provided. This requires that at least one of the forms of ID provided contains a photo.

It must also be established that the applicant is the sole claimant of the identity within the organisation. For any enrolled student, this will have been carried out centrally as part of admission processes. For staff it will be carried out by Chief Executive as part of the recruitment process. No additional checks are required by departments.

Note that police vetting also requires identity verification. Advice on practical processes for meeting both identity verification requirements is provided on page 15 below.

Safety checking: name change process

Identity checks are not required when three-yearly rechecking is carried out. Identity documentation is only required if a student or staff children's worker has changed their name since the last check.

A list of the documents which can be used to verify a name change is provided in Appendix 2 on page 20.

Safety checking: police vetting

Police vetting is required for safety checking of all children's workers.

Technically a new police vet need not be sought where it can be confirmed that the person in question belongs to a professional organisation or licencing or registration authority which has carried out a police vet in the last three years and routinely carries out police vetting of members at intervals of not more than three years. However, because information about convictions cannot be shared across organisations, it is generally recommended that the Trust conduct an independent police vet in such cases.

There are a number of designated staff in the Trust who are able to seek police vets on your behalf. For staff checks: Please contact Tammy Chaffey- Administration

For student checks please contact (as appropriate):

Tertiary Provider Placement Liaison EIT, Te Rito Maioha, Te Wananga o Aotearoa

Police vetting has its own identity verification and consent processes, which are described at <http://www.police.govt.nz/advice/businesses-and-organisations/vetting/vetting-process>. Applicants are required to complete a consent form which also has sections for the Trust to complete. The form is available at <http://www.police.govt.nz/advice/businesses-and-organisations/vetting/forms>. Further advice on identity verification for both the VCA and police vetting is provided on page 15 below.

If seeking a police vet through one of the nominated student contacts above, departments shall normally be responsible for receiving the police vet consent form and verifying identity before sending to the contact to formally seek information from the police. The vetting process is described in more details at <http://www.police.govt.nz/advice/businesses-and-organisations/vetting/vetting-process>

Information provided for vetting purposes has the Government security classification 'in confidence' and must be securely stored and destroyed (including deletion of electronic copies) once no longer needed and within 12 months of being provided.

It is noted that police vetting may take up to 20 days (or longer at peak periods); this should be considered in terms of planning.

Staff who have not previously lived in New Zealand are still required to be New Zealand police vetted. It is recommended that such students/staff be asked to provide copies of police certificates from any country in which they have lived across the last five years. If such certificates cannot be obtained, they should be required to make a declaration that they have sought but cannot obtain such certificates. Note that police vetting requires a New Zealand residential address, so international applicants may not be able to seek a police vet until living in New Zealand. In such cases they should confirm as part of their application that they have not previously lived in New Zealand, and the police vet should be completed at a later time but prior to their commencing their work with children.

Safety checking: interview

All New Children's Workers must be interviewed. This can be carried out face-to-face or via telephone or other communications technology (e.g. Skype). The interview may be incorporated into existing interviews, and the level of questioning may be based on an initial assessment of risk from information provided by the applicant, police vetting and referee checks.

At a minimum, something like the following question should be asked:

Is there any reason why we should have concerns about your suitability for working with children?

Further questions may be asked if necessary, either due to concerns arising from an initial risk assessment or from the answer to this question.

Safety checking: referee checking

Referee checks are required for all New Children's Workers. Written references are recommended but telephone references are also acceptable, so long as a written record of the conversation is kept. It is strongly recommended that reference be made to the VCA and to the applicant's need to work with children in communications with referees. Questions should be relatively open-ended and, as for the interview, should be centred on a question such as:

Is there any reason why the Trust should have concerns about the applicant's suitability for working with children?

Safety checking: professional organisation checking

Where an applicant has identified that they belong to any professional organisations, licensing or registration authorities, the Trust must, for at least one of these:

confirm that the applicant is a currently a member of the organisation or currently licenced or registered by the organisation (which may be done via public records online);

AND/OR

seek information from the organisation or authority relevant to the applicant's suitability for working with children.

If an applicant has identified that they belong to a body which has carried out a New Zealand police vet of them in the last three years, and which routinely carries out police vetting of members at intervals of not more than three years, this body can be contacted to confirm this and this will technically meet VCA requirements. However, particularly for job applicants, it is recommended that a new police vet normally be sought to ensure claims made by the applicant about any convictions or lack thereof can be independently verified by the Trust.

Safety checking: risk assessment

Risk assessment following the collection of all information involves a professional judgement. It is noted that a risk-averse approach may be favoured to ensure the safety of children. Countering this, care must be taken not to prevent people from working or studying where risks are minimal. Ultimately, the question to be considered for each applicant is:

Would this person pose an undue risk to children in the child worker role they plan to undertake?

The following should be taken into consideration:

The VCA contains a list of specified serious offences (see Appendix 3 on page 21). It is unlawful for an organisation to employ or engage a person who has been convicted of one of these offences as a 'Core' children's worker (that is a children's worker who has primary responsibility for the children in their care, or who will be the only children's worker present with children at any time).

Other offending, and concerns from interviews or reference checking, should be considered in the context of the work the applicant will be doing. The time since any conviction, and the age of the applicant at the time of the offence, may also be taken into account.

Where there are concerns about the suitability of an applicant to be a children's worker, the applicant may be asked to provide further information.

If an applicant has deliberately provided misleading or incorrect information, this should usually be taken as a strong indication that they should not be considered suitable to be employed or engaged as a children's worker.

Chief Executive should undertake risk assessments. The use of a panel of staff or community members is recommended to ensure consistency of decisions and lack of bias. Appropriate processes for risk assessment will need to be developed in each relevant area.

Advice on planning and carrying out safety checking and rechecking

The following advice might be taken into account in planning and executing safety checking processes:

Integration with existing processes

Where possible, safety checking requirements should be integrated with existing processes, including existing recruitment, admission and interview processes.

Information provision

Where programmes require staff to be safety checked, it is recommended information on this is provided in material relating to the programme. This might state something like the following:

As students in this programme will be required to work with children in a regulated service as part of their training, safety checking (including a New Zealand police vet, interview, reference check and risk assessment) of all applicants shall be carried out as required under the Vulnerable Children Act 2014.

Information will also be made available on the Trust's webpages and in publications as appropriate.

Safety checking requirements should also be made clear in recruitment advertising and during the recruitment process for Trust children's worker jobs. Contact the Chief Executive in relation to advertised vacancies or the relevant Administrator.

Communication processes

Processes should be put in place to communicate the outcome of safety checks. This can be integrated into existing processes if possible.

Timing of processes

Timeframes for receiving police vetting information should be considered in setting application dates etc. Police vetting may take up to 20 working days in non-busy periods and longer at peak periods. The VCA will also increase pressure on police vetting services. Sufficient time (at least 6 weeks is recommended) should be allowed for this part of the process.

Consideration should also be given to the best time to run safety checking processes, particularly for students who may not have contact with children immediately in their programme (checks must be carried out before contact with children takes place). Generally, assessment at admission is best, but for long programmes with contact only late in the programme, later checking may avoid a need to recheck students. This needs to be weighed against the risk of a student who has already completed a significant part of the programme not being able to complete their studies. See also the section on postgraduate research students below.

Interviews for students

If interview questions for students cannot be added to an existing interview process, interviews may be best conducted over a one or two-day period on a rolling basis, particularly if student numbers are high. This could be combined with identity verification processes (see below).

Interviews for staff

It is expected interview questions for staff who are considered children's workers as part of their ongoing key work would be asked as part of the recruitment interview. The Chief Executive can provide advice on appropriate questions to ask. For staff who are already employed and who begin working with children in their current role, interviews are not required.

Identity verification

Identity verification processes are required both to initiate police vetting and to complete VCA checking. These have similar but slightly different ID requirements. VCA requirements will meet police requirements, so if the applicant is on campus it is recommended that they provide documentation as required by the VCA early in the process to permit both vetting and VCA approval (see 'Safety checking: identity verification' on page 10). For those who are off-campus (e.g. student applicants) and who live in New Zealand, or have previously lived in New Zealand, the following approach is recommended:

1. The applicant provides copies of a primary and secondary forms of ID (see Appendix 2 for preferred forms of ID), one of which includes a photo. These should be verified by a trusted referee who also completes the relevant sections on page 2 of the police vetting request and consent form. Appropriate referees might be those listed on the Trust's Witnesses Documents webpage although anyone meeting police requirements as laid out on page 2 of the application form would suffice. This allows for police vetting to take place.
2. For VCA purposes, the applicant then brings in original copies of their primary and secondary forms of ID for checking. This could be combined with interview processes. These need not be the same documents as those provided as verified copies (for vetting purposes) previously, but must meet VCA requirements.

Note that original ID documentation as prescribed by the VCA must be sighted before an applicant begins working with children.

International applicants and police vets

For those who have not previously lived in, or are not currently living in, New Zealand, current processes mean that a New Zealand police vet will not be able to be sought until they have a residence in New Zealand. In such cases it is recommended:

- The applicant declare that they have never lived in New Zealand, and acknowledge that if they provide false information about this they will be disqualified from study or work at the Trust.
- The applicant agree to consent to a police vet once in New Zealand.
- The applicant not be permitted to work with children until all VCA requirements (including a NZ police vet) are completed.

All other VCA safety checking processes, including a risk assessment, can proceed prior to the police vet being sought (on the assumption that this will show no convictions).

As for any applicant who has lived overseas, it is recommended that these applicants also be asked to provide overseas police certificates from the country or countries where they have lived in the last five years. It is possible they will already have obtained these for their NZ Immigration application.

Documentation and Oversight

Documenting safety checks

It is important that safety checks are well documented for auditing purposes and to assist with rechecking as required. The following (or equivalent) is required within departments, divisions or other organisational units as appropriate:

- A list or lists be maintained of all students and staff who have been safety checked in a programme, including:
 - Name
 - staff ID
 - Date check completed (signing off of risk assessment)
 - Person responsible for signing off on safety check
 - Expiry date of current safety check (three years after date check completed)
 - Date to being rechecking process if required (a recommended minimum of three months prior to safety check no longer being current).

It is noted that facility for recording these details in corporate records systems (MYOB HR system) will be investigated in 2017.

- Filing of all information relating to safety checks for individual staff/students, either on existing staff/student files, or as new files. This includes:
 - Application information
 - Referee reports
 - Verified copies of identity documents
 - Notes relating to risk assessment

Information provided for police vetting must be securely stored and destroyed (including deletion of electronic copies) once no longer needed and within 12 months of being provided. It is not recommended that this be stored.

For staff, safety check records will be confidentially stored by Admin.

The management of all records should be carried out in accordance with relevant legislation and Trust policy, particularly the Trust's Records Management Policy and Policy on Access to, and use of, Personal Information.

Requirements for reporting safety check processes are in place for existing programmes

To assist with provision of information on the Trust's corporate webpages and other publications, and possible application enhancements in MYOB, it is asked that programmes which will need safety checks for students be reported to the Chief Executive.

Requirements for reporting safety check processes are in place for new programmes

VCA is relevant to a new programme, and if so, providing confirmation that appropriate safety checking processes shall be in place.

Requirements for reporting safety checks in relation to staff recruitment

From early 2016 staff recruitment processes will incorporate appropriate safety checking, including providing confirmation that safety checking has been carried out and is current.
